STORY OF MAN WHO MADE GOOD

John J. Sullivan Lost Leg and Hearing, But Kept On Plugging

Is Loud in Praise of Industrial Accident Board Vocational Training Division

Injured soldiers, sailors or incapacitated persons of any kind who are anxious to know how they may rehabilitate themselves and become self-supporting in spite of their injury or infirmity, will find a good friend and advisor in the person of John J. Sullivan, of 186 Appleton street.

Himself a sufferer of seriously impaired hearing and also having suffered amputation of his right leg above the knee as the result of a railroad accident, Mr. Sullivan intends to boost the quiet but effective work now being carried on by the vocational training division of the industrial accident board because as he says, had it not been for the great humane work it has successfully undertaken, he might now have to eke out a miserable living as a penniless peddler.

To describe the work of this division of the industrial accident board in brief, before telling Mr. Sullivan's story, it can be said that for all persons in the state, both men and women, this department's aim is to find opportunity for the applicant to learn a trade so as to in time become self-supporting. This applies to persons injured in factory work of course and no matter how injured, the department will do its best, even to the extent, in a number of cases, of financially taking care of a man or woman while the trade is being learned.

This great work is a work in which Massachusetts takes leadership. Only a few states in this country have reached the stage of progressiveness in social legislation where they have started to do this work.

Mr. Sullivan's Story

John J. Sullivan's home is at Hillsborough, N. H. He went to high school there a couple of years and afterward went to work in a textile mill. He was an intelligent and progressive kind of a man and in time was given a foremanship.

Then, according to the vocational division authorities, came the railroad accident which resulted in his almost total loss of hearing and the amputation of his leg. Sullivan stopped to think seriously of the future, to take stock and to make a new start without "trapping" his past experience. Through the vocational division he was induced to become interested in the subject of storage batteries. He asked advice of the vocational division as to what a man in his condition could do and not only was the advice promptly forthcoming but more, he was taken under the wing of the department, so to speak, and a chance found for him to see what he could do.

JOHN J. SULLIVAN

The story from this point on is perhaps best told by Mr. Sullivan himself.

Sticktoitiveness Wins

"It should not be forgotten," said Mr. Sullivan to The Sun man who interviewed him at his shop at 56 Thorndike street, "that I was a mechanic by inclination and experience before I got hurt and so I perhaps took to this business of making and repairing storage batteries with more aptitude and readiness than an inexperienced man would. After I had laid my case before the people at the state house they hustled around and got me a place to learn the business with a firm in Newbury street, Boston. I was there three months and learned enough about the business so I could come back here to Lowell which had been my home for a number of years and set up business in storage batteries.

"I cannot help looking at this problem from the point of view of an incapacitated man, which is natural, but just the same, I believe this work of rehabilitation for cripples and incapacitated people is one of the most important and humane things now being done in our entire country.

"The day of the cripple seen peddling pencils or begging alms on the street has gone by, I think, and just as soon as the public becomes a little better educated to the fact, it will be known that with all the opportunities open to them that there are now these men need not peddle pencils or beg.

Brother Lost His Arm

"I had a brother in New Hampshire who lost his arm by tuberculosis. He felt badly at first as it was his right arm. But he got courage. The rest of us in his family told him we would help him all we could. He got some courage and went into the insurance business. He could write insurance with his left hand, after a while, as well as he probably ever would have been able to with his right hand. This was at Manchester. To make a long story short, he made good in the insurance business and was given charge of opening up a new territory, up around Hillsborough, our home

STRIKERS BACK AT WORK

Painters' and Paperhangers' Strike Settled—Molders Want Eight Hour Day

The journeymen painters and paperhangers, who have been out on strike a week or more because of a refusal on the part of the master painters to grant them an increase of ten cents an hour, returned to work this morning pending a final settlement of their demands. The vote to return to work was taken at a meeting held last evening with President Robert Moore in the chair, and it was explained that the settlement was only provisional, the conditions of the settlement not being made public.

Molders Strike

About 120 molders, all members of the Molders' union and employed in local shops, went out on strike yesterday to enforce their demands for an eight-hour day. Five foundries are affected by the strike and it is expected that the men employed in other shops will also fall in line. The demand for an eight-hour day was presented to the employers over a month ago and several conferences have been held since, but no agreement was reached, so that yesterday the strike was inaugurated. The molders are now working nine hours a day.

Tell Dyspeptics What to Eat

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acids and prevent the formation of gas or sourness by the use of a little Blusafed Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Blusafed Magnesia, which you can get from any drug store, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-grain tablets taken in a little water with the next meal will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the next digest naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestant.

TO SURRENDER ALL WARSHIPS

Naval Terms of Treaty To
Be Presented to Austria
Wipes Out Austrian Navy

Council of Four and Council of Foreign Ministers
Resumed Sessions Today

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, May 9.—The naval terms of the treaty to be presented to Austria, as they have been completed, entirely wipe out the Austrian navy. All the ships of that navy, large and small, are to be surrendered. Their disposition among the allies is to be adjusted later.

Both the council of four and the council of foreign ministers resumed their sessions this morning. The former is giving special attention to the impending negotiations between the allies and Austria and the latter is discussing reports on the boundaries of former Austro-Hungarian territories.

Discusses Italy's Claims
President Wilson and Premier Clemenceau, Lloyd George and Orlando discussed the diplomatic situation yesterday morning and in the evening took up the question of Italy's claims to territory on the eastern shore of the Adriatic, says the Havas agency. The council of foreign ministers considered the problem of the frontiers of Hungary yesterday.

May Modify Treaty
It is generally believed that the Germans will answer the delivery of the treaty of peace by proposals relative to certain phases of the document. A competent commission will examine the German answer and if modifications are necessary the Germans will be notified. It is expected that in this rejoinder, the enemy will be allowed four or five days to agree definitely to the whole treaty. It is therefore, probable that from 25 to 30 days will elapse before the pact is finally signed.

Austrian Delegates Not Named
The Austrian peace delegation, numbering 40 to 50 persons, is expected to arrive at St. Germaine on May 12. Information received from French sources is that the delegation has not as yet left Vienna, owing to difficulties encountered in selecting its members because of differences of opinion regarding the proposed incorporation of German Austria in Germany. Despatches received here today indicate that while Franz Klein, president of the delegation, favors annexation, Professor Lamasch, another in-already oversubscribed, and at least five of the others will be over tonight. Lowell took big strides forward this morning when the purchases were headed by an additional subscription of $200,000, received through the Union National bank from the Lowell Institution for Savings, making that bank's total $600,000. The local committee knows the whereabouts of about $500,000 of the $900,000 needed at the close of banking hours last night to secure the city's quota and there is every reason to believe that the city and district will come through with over-subscriptions.

Big Subscriptions Today

The Union National bank transacted about $250,000 worth of loan business this forenoon, including a $17,000 subscription from the employees of the Appleton Mfg. Co. The C. B. Coburn Co. has been instrumental in obtaining an allotment of $12,500 to Lowell as a part of the large country-wide subscription of M. I. Dupont, de Nemours & Co.

Lowell men and women must subscribe at least $300,000 to put Lowell over her quota before tomorrow night. Today and tomorrow constitute the last chance. The situation throughout New England is looked upon as desperate by the loan officials in Boston and they have sent out a last appeal for a keen realization of how truly desperate the situation has become. The time is long past when it is safe to sit back and let "the other fellow" do it, and everyone must assume a personal responsibility now for putting the loan across no matter what the sacrifice. Lowell and North Middlesex district must not be satisfied to simply obtain the designated quotas, but must work for a large over-subscription, to do our part, at least, in the New England campaign.

According to a tabulation made this morning, with no report available from the town of Billerica, and with incomplete reports from Chelmsford, Tewksbury and Westford the 20 towns in the district have subscribed $1,508,600 against a district quota with Lowell subtracted of $1,726,000. Billerica is mately $100,000 of her $132,000 quota, which would leave a balance in all the towns of about $100,000 to put them into the safety zone.

Dismalable Leads

The majority of towns have responded wonderfully to this last appeal, led by Dismalable which has over-subscribed almost three times her quota. Bedford has $95,000 against a quota of $70,000; Foxboro, $5500 against a quota of $5000; Hurlington, $12,000 against a quota of $11,000; Carlisle, $7500 against a quota of $7000; Chelmsford, $210,000 against a quota of $210,000 (incomplete); Dismalable, $70,000 against a quota of $55,000; Groton, $150,250 against a quota of $150,000; Littleton, $11,000 against a quota of $10,000;

Reading, $93,000 against a quota of $700,000; Tewksbury, $50,000 against a quota of $50,000 (incomplete); Westford, $165,000 against a quota of $165,000 (incomplete); Wilmington, $90,200 against a quota of $75,000, and Peppercorn, $75,000 against a quota of $70,000.

Aside from Billerica which has made no report to date against her quota of $132,000, the following towns are still behind: Acton, $61,000 against a quota of $85,000; Ayer, $36,000 against a quota of $170,000; Dracut, $45,000 against a quota of $9,000; North Reading, $12,100 against a quota of $15,000; Shirley, $22,000 against a quota of $37,000, and Tyngsboro, $16,000 against a quota of $20,000.

This constitutes an over-subscription in the towns to date of $118,500 and an under-subscription of $287,500 which includes a shortage of $82,000 in Billerica. This makes a total of $118,400 to get in the towns, and there is no doubt of this being subscribed before tomorrow night.

Take a part of the $300,000 needed, and then add to it to put the city high up in the honor class.

PUBLIC RECEPTION FOR NOTED WOMAN

A public reception will be held in honor of Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, former president of the National Federation of Women's clubs, who comes to Lowell on Saturday, May 17, to address a large mass meeting of young women. # CONCERT AND PAGEANT

Entertainment in Connection
With Work of Religious
Instruction School

A unique entertainment at the First Congregational church last evening skillfully blended religion, the city's civic spirit, the Americanization work being carried on, and last but not least, real patriotism.

It was officially designated as a concert and pageant in connection with work of the Lowell School of Religious Instruction. The musical part was given under the direction of Prof. H. Augustine Smith of Boston, who has worked for quite a long time, and very hard, drilling the large chorus heard so enjoyably last night.

The musical program was opened by the chorus singing Coleridge-Taylor's Viking Song. The accompanist at piano was Mr. Arthur C. Spaulding. The soloist was a little 12 year old Boston girl, Lillian A. Sawyer, a cornetist who delighted the audience with her first number, the Sea Flower Polka, phrased for cornet, a composition written by the noted Rollinson.

Community singing had its show after this number and the audience under guidance of Prof. Smith assisted by the chorus of 60 voices and the little girl cornetist sang "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" and one of two verses of America. The chorus next offered Carpenter's "Home Road," and "Under the Stars and Stripes."

Rev. Frank M. McKibben made a short address in connection with the work of the Lowell School of Religious Instruction which has been carried on in Lowell for the past three years and called attention to the fact that next Thursday evening the graduation of 27 teachers who have completed the three years' course, will take place. He paid a tribute to the earnest and conscientious work of Rev. James Hancock, Louis A. Olney and Edwin T. Shaw in connection with the school.

This was followed by Miss Sawyer's playing "Last Night" with the chorus next offering "O Italia, Italia, Beloved." The audience was invited to "community sing" "The Holy City."

The balance of the program was devoted to the Americanization procession, as it was called. Groups of boys and girls with appropriate flags representing France, Greece, Great Britain, Portugal, Italy, Poland, Armenia, the flag of the Jewish nation and the United States, marched in procession through the church by turn, each group singing the national anthem or hymn of the country of its ancestors.

The "Pageant of the Stars and Stripes," a dramatization of Secretary Franklin J. Lane's Flag Day address, devised by Prof. Smith, was next on the program. The characters appeared in costume. Those taking part in this spectacle were as follows:

"Spirit of Patriotism," Miss Amy French; government clerk, Jefferson K. Mansfield; pine tree flag bearer, Wilber Roberts; grand union flag bearer, Thomas Chadwick; "Betsey Ross," Mrs. N. J. Marcotte; little girl, Mabel Bennett; "George Washington," Richard Chadwick; "Robert Morris," Arthur Lyon; service flag bearers, Grace L. Coburn and Doris L. Rigby; and church flag bearers, Robert Timmons and Raymond Aspinall. There were veterans of the Civil war and of the German war in the line, also.

The Star Field and Stripes Bearers, a pretty portion of the pageant, were: Margaret Olney, Edna Olney, Albertine Curtis, Emma Curtis, Dorothy Pratt, Bertha Ruzar, Dorothy Ellis, Rena Nichols, Laura Whitney, Helen Harwell, Ethel Armstrong, Carina Bartlett, Lillian Trevers, Sybil Thurston, Mildred Freeman, Ethel Timmons, Frances Graves, Harriet Perron, Edna Wadsworth, Elsie Silk, Mary Dexter, Ernestine Laddlaw, Josephine Parke, Ruth Gulesian, Lois Braden, Lorraine Wilson, Ruth French and Sarah Mason.

were the heralds, and Edward Sheridan and Thomas Varnum, Jr., were the stage attendants.

There were congregational songs and responses in the pageant and various well known melodies were sung, concluding with a rousing rendering of "The Star Spangled Banner."

The boys of Elliot Boy Scout troop, No. 18, were of much assistance during the evening. Miss Jackson had general supervision of the pageantry featuring the Lowell council of the school: Rev. F. M. McKibben is director; Miss Julia W. Stevens is secretary and Edwin T. Shaw is treasurer.

AMERICA OF TOMORROW

Canadian Publicist and Orator
Delivers Interesting
Address at C.M.A.C. Hall

"America of Tomorrow" was the subject of a lecture delivered last evening at C.M.A.C. hall in Pawtucket street by Henri Bourassa, eminent Canadian publicist and orator, and for over two hours the able speaker kept his audience spellbound with a terrific arraignment of British imperialism. In the course of his remarks Mr. Bourassa said the great war had swept away the last shreds of the Monroe Doctrine and that in the future America—the United States and Canada—must take their share in all international troubles. He also predicted a clash between the white and yellow races, for the greatest problem now facing the world is the Asiatic question. He also referred to Ireland, the little nation, which for the past 700 years has been persecuted by England, but that despite her persecutions she will come out victorious.

Mr. Bourassa lectured under the auspices of the Club Lafayette and his address was listened to with great interest. His audience included numerous clergymen from this city, Manchester, Nashua and other surrounding cities. At the close of the lecture a brief reception was tendered the speaker at Club Lafayette and later the distinguished visitor was entertained by the Oblate Fathers of St. Joseph's parish.

Mr. Bourassa was presented to the audience by Dr. George E. Chissee and in the course of his lecture he reviewed the history of this country and Canada.

da, reviewing the War of the Rebellion, the Civil war, and the Spanish-American war, telling the contributory causes of such conflicts. Then he referred to the part played by Canada in the British-Boer war and also to the activity of the Dominion in the great world war. The speaker then dwelt upon the Monroe doctrine, saying it was concocted by George Channing, the British minister for foreign affairs, to help England hold Canada and it was after two years of hard work that Mr. Channing succeeded in having President Monroe adopt the doctrine for his country. "The Monroe doctrine is no more," continued the speaker, "for the great war has swept away the last shreds of it. I believe its politics were excellent, but only for the benefit of England."

Referring to the treaty of peace recently presented to "Gormani," Mr. Bourassa called attention to the fact that Poland was recognized as a nation. France will retain Alsace-Lorraine, Belgium will be rebuilt, etc., but he said there is no mention of Ireland, simply because England is playing a great part around the peace table. "Ireland has been persecuted by England for the past seven hundred years, and she is still being persecuted, but despite her persecutions she will win and live. Ireland will live because she wants to live and she has a right to live."

Mr. Bourassa spoke of Asiatic conditions and said there are but two nations in Asia, England, because of her control of India, and the United States, who is financing China, but Japan, who wishes to establish and control Asiatic nationalism, will fight every inch of American commercial progress in Asia and with China, who with her, has seen and profited from modern methods of war, may some day be the enemy from which America may have to assist to protect Europe.

Mr. Bourassa spoke at length on so-called international politics and concluded by saying that the international politics of our days is "the honest if you can, but be honest, and make money honestly if you can, but make money."

THINKS TANKS WHICH HELPED END WAR WOULD AID HIM IN DOMESTIC WARFARE

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Tanks helped end the war in Europe; a Kentucky mountaineer thinks one might help end domestic warfare for him. Up in the mountains where he lives, this man writes the war department the roads get very bad, almost impassable. After a hard rain his horse makes slow going and he often does not reach home until very late at night. His wife rather doubts that bad roads are the reason. "I have heard that those tanks travel over impassable ground at good speed," he writes, "so when the government disposes of its surplus war material, please send me one so I can get home on time, and live in peace with my wife."

UNPAID GERMAN BILL

Owes United States $10,500

For Maintaining Ice Patrol Cutters

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Here is an unpaid bill for which Germany will be dunned when peace is restored:

"The imperial government, debtor to the United States coast guard, to one share of the expense of maintaining ice patrol cutters in the North Atlantic, 1914, 1915, 1916, $10,500."

All maritime powers paid their bills by agreement except Germany, which balked after the war started in 1914. Ice berms which float down from the Arctic threaten such disasters as that of the Titanic.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY CRITICIZES TREATY

LONDON, Thursday, May 8.—After meeting to consider the terms of peace imposed upon Germany by the allied and associated nations, the national executive committee of the British labor party tonight issued a manifesto declaring the treaty in some essential particulars "opposed to the declarations of President Wilson, of the inter-allied labor conference and the Bering conference and very defective from the standpoint of world peace."

"It bears evidence of a compromise by capitalism and imperialism which still dominates European states," the manifesto declares.

"Any permanent denial of Germany of an opportunity to become a mandatory under the League of Nations must cause jealousy and unrest leading to further international disputes."

Other points criticized were the failure to give Germany representation on the reparations commission and the omission of provisions for a progressive limitation of armaments by the other signatories to the treaty. The manifesto protested against the permanent separation of the Saar basin from Germany.

ATTEMPT TO DEFEAT WEAVERS' BILL

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, May 9.—A last desperate effort to defeat the weavers' specifications bill was made in the senate yesterday afternoon, and for a few moments it appeared likely to succeed, as opponents of the bill were able to force reconsideration of Wednesday's favorable action, the vote on reconsideration being 15 to 15.

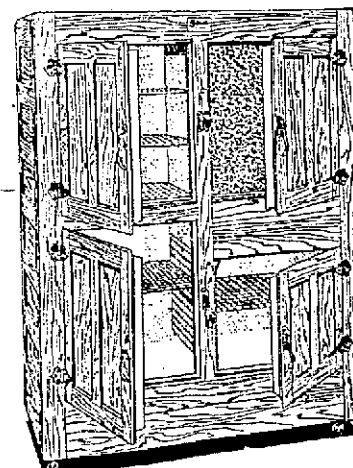

Following this adverse action, however, Senator Halliwell of New Bedford warned the senate that he was prepared for a showdown if the senate desired to force one. "Up to this time," he said, "I have refrained from calling names in connection with this bill, but if the senate insists upon a showdown, we'll have it right here and now. If you want a few facts, I'm ready to give them to you."

Senator Callahan of Lawrence said he could not prove that undue influ-

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.

What Is Economy in a Refrigerator?

Compared with the ice expense, the first cost shrinks into insignificance. The refrigerator which is thoroughly efficient with the smallest consumption of ice is unquestionably the least expensive in the end.

All Day Friday and Saturday

I'll lay before your eyes the plainest proposition—the fairest above board, open handed, SHOW-DOWN ever made by a merchant to the people of Lowell.

I want you to visit my store. I want you to satisfy yourself as to certain things—anything you have in mind upon which you are doubtful.

I want you to satisfy yourself in every particular—I want you to see other intelligent men, prosperous men, taking home the garments they ordered last week. My store is an open sweep. Everything open to one glance of the eye. See these men trying on their clothes before they take them home. See how I fit them.

See my shop. See the clothes in process of making. See them inside. See them outside. See the patterns designed and draughted. See the cloth chalk-marked and cut, and the linings and findings selected for every different suit.

And the Woolens

I'll Dumbfound This City of Prosperity

A Lowell clothing merchant seeing the shipment of woolens for this sale, said, "Hid e them, or call the police. There will be a riot when the people see them Saturday."

once had been exerted on any senators, but the fact that two senators had changed their attitude since Wednesday, voting yesterday against a bill which they had previously favored on three roll-calls, showed plainly that some influence had been at work.

Senator Walsh of Boston declared that in walking through the corridors he had drawn certain conclusions which he would ask the court to take cognizance of if he were trying a case in the criminal courts of the state.

This strong language apparently had its effect, for two senators who had voted for reconsideration shifted back and supported the bill on the final test, this giving it a favorable vote of 17 to 16. This ends the fight in the senate, as the matter has once been reconsidered and cannot be again made the subject of a similar motion.

The vote was put on passing the bill to be engrossed, and resulted as follows:

For the bill—Back of Chelsea, Callahan of Lawrence, Cavanaugh of Everett, Conliffe of Cambridge, Cronin of Holyoke, Curran of Boston, Eames of Reading, Foley of Boston, Halliwell of New Bedford, Kearney of Boston, Mac-Intosh of Quincy, McLaughlin of Fall River, Nason of Haverhill, Reed of Taunton, Walsh of Boston and Winchester of Boston.—17.

Against the bill—Brown of Gloucester, Chamberlain of Springfield, Churchill of Amherst, Colburn of Dracut, Curran of Brookline, Dahlborg of Brockton, Gifford of Barnstable, Hardy of Huntington, Hardy of Fitchburg, Hastings of North Adams, Jackson of Lynn, Loring of Beverly, Nichols of Boston, Smith of Lincoln, Tarbell of Brookfield, Weston of Newton.—16.

Paired in favor—Knox of Somerville, Prescott of Grafton, Sullivan of Worcester.

Paired in opposition—Finkel of Boston, Hobbs of Worcester, Perrin of Wellesley.

The vote on reconsideration was exactly the reverse, except that Senators Knox of Somerville and McIntosh of Quincy were recorded with those favoring the motion, and later changed back to support the bill.

The senate ordered the anti-anarchy bill to a third reading without opposition.

By a vote of 4 to 31, the senate did the expected thing and refused to adopt amendments to the McKnight civil service bill proposed by Governor

McDonald. This means that the bill will go back to the governor in its original form and will be vetoed. Senators openly stated today that they have put the governor in a hole, but perhaps when they read the veto message which His Excellency will prepare they will wish the hole had never been dug, because the chances are better than even they will occupy it themselves.

K. OF P. LODGE HOLDS FIRST ANNUAL DANCE

Lincoln hall was the scene last evening of the first annual dance of Pythias lodge, No. 16, K. of P., and the affair was a big success from start to finish. Local Lodge No. 15 was organized a month or two ago and if last night's entertainment is to be taken as a criterion it will certainly have a very prosperous future. The hall was well filled and the members and their friends were unanimous in declaring that the dance was the "best ever." Miner & Doyle's orchestra furnished the music and a buffet lunch was served during the evening. The success of the affair was due not only to the regularly appointed committees, but also to other individuals who interested themselves in the lodge's first annual because they are interested in the prosperity of the lodge. James Thompson, the fellow who wears the smile that no clouds or shadows can efface, was general manager, and he was ably assisted by Robert H. Pitts as floor director and Charles Faulkner as chief aid.

"PAY AS YOU ENTER" INVENTOR IS DEAD

MONTREAL, May 9.—Duncan McDonald, inventor of the "pay-as-you-enter" street car, and formerly general manager of the Montreal Street Railway company, died of tuberculosis at St. Agatha yesterday. He was 60 years old.

Mr. McDonald's career dated from the horse car days and for a time he was connected with the traction companies in St. Paul and Minneapolis. After resigning the management of the lines here, he was elected city controller and served two years. He retired from public life in 1916, after having been defeated for the mayor-

Face Peeling Habit Becoming Fashionable

Women of fashion and refinement seem to have been acquiring the mercerized wax habit, depending less and less upon cosmetics for their complexion difficulties. It does seem a lot saner to just peel off the worn-out skin when it loses its youthful color and so easily, safely, painlessly and economically. There's no trouble getting mercerized wax at any drug store (an ounce will do). Since its virtues have become generally known here, and there's no trouble using it—just as you use cold cream, applying at night, washing it off next morning. The wax takes off the old dead skin, in tiny flakes, a little each day. The new under-skin which gradually appears, is velvety soft and beautifully white, radiant with girlish loveliness. Any surface trouble like pimples, red or yellow patches, freckles, etc., vanished of course with the discarded cuticle.—Adv.

TO DISCHARGE DRAFTEES

Orders For All To Be Out of Service by June 15—

Also Duration of War Men

CAMP DEVENS, May 9.—Half of this cantonment, or barracks for nearly 20,000 men, is to be closed within the next week. This announcement was made at headquarters yesterday, following the receipt from the war department of instructions to discharge from the military service by June 15, all drafted men or men enlisted in the army for the duration of the war.

According to the plans for the closing of half the camp, the Depot Brigade area and these areas formerly occupied by the 42d and 14th Infantry Regiments, are to be shut completely. Even the roads through these areas are to be closed and no traffic of any kind will be allowed. A skeleton guard, merely to patrol the areas and watch for fires, will be maintained.

The 42d and 14th Infantry areas were occupied by the 103d and 104 Infantry of the 3d Division, when that organization was at this camp. The Depot Brigade, which is the demobilization center here, is to be moved to the old artillery area. This will bring the demobilization force closer to the camp railroad yards and will add materially to the speeding up of demobilization. The areas occupied by the Divisional Trains in "the good old days," will constitute an overflow area for the accommodation of troops who may be delayed here because of difficulty in securing transportation, such as exists at the present time.

The other half of the division area, formerly occupied by the 36th and 72d

Infantry Regiments, will be kept open. The 36th will continue to occupy its present quarters, and the 72d area will be used for the Officers' Training school, which opens here June 21.

In the areas that are to be closed, all equipment will be left, so they can be thrown open almost immediately in case of an emergency. None of the buildings will be torn down.

The Base hospital will be kept open as always. The quartermaster area will also be used.

It was stated yesterday that 50 men from the Base hospital, 50 from the Provost Guard and 71 from the 131st Detachment are to go almost immediately. They will be followed at regular intervals by others, until the 4000 drafted men still in the permanent personnel of the camp have been discharged.

Their places are to be taken by men who enlist in the regular service and by civilians. Maj. Gen. McLean has authority from the war department to employ as many civilians as he finds necessary to carry on the work at this camp. Manual labor is to be performed by civilians also after June 15.

In this way the army will give civilian employment to discharged soldiers who are unable to get their old jobs back or to find new ones right away. The military authorities are going to try and draw all the civilian labor supply from the ranks of discharged soldiers. The government will pay the laborers $40 a month and board and room, which is considered the equivalent of $100 a month.

Word was received yesterday that nearly 1000 men from overseas are to come here Sunday and Monday, besides several thousand others who are on their way or about to start for Devens from other camps in this country.

The 4000 overseas men are coming on the battleship Georgia. The 126th Infantry is coming on the Luckenbach, 2333 strong, and the 121st Field Artillery, consisting of 1428 officers and men, will be on the Georgia.

It was announced yesterday that condemnation of land leased by the government will begin on May 20. The land constituting part of the Artillery Range, out around Spectacle pond, has been turned back to the use of the owners, though the government still holds the leases. Understanding will very shortly be reached, it is stated, so that all the land the government doesn't propose to purchase will be turned back to the owners and the actual purchase of the remaining 3500 acres will be completed.

WAR MACHINES NOW MAKE PEACE ARTICLES

PARIS, May. (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The war manufactures of France, many of which have already been diverted again to peaceful pursuits, are turning out a great variety of articles that are a far reach from the implements of destruction which were being fabricated on armistice day. So far as possible the war machinery has been kept and is being employed to make the things of peace to which it is best adapted.

Grenade foundries are now making iron water piping, parts for agricultural machinery and non-rusting casseroles. One important establishment which was working on shells is now manufacturing locksmith's tools. In other shell works iron window shutters, pickaxes, portable anvils, safes and washing machines are being constructed. One plant which made parts for fighting tanks is, strange as it may seem, constructing machines for the manufacture of paper and chocolate.

WOBURN AGAIN BEATEN

Free Hitting Game Won by Lowell High Yesterday, by 11 to 7 Score

Lowell high defeated Woburn high school for the second time this season yesterday afternoon at Spalding park. 11 to 7. Black, the visiting pitcher, was pounded pretty much all over the lot. Fifth, sixth and seventh innings, Lowell hits being sandwiched in between fatal errors of omission by Woburn players. These errors of omission, by the way, while not showing up in the box score, decided Woburn's fate. Their trio of outfielders were shrinking violets when it came to grabbing fly balls and several Lowell drives were turned into hits when the ball dropped at the feet of a waiting outfielder.

ten of the visitors over the strike-out route. He was most vigorous with passes, giving seven, and several times set a mean stage for himself by his own carelessness. His support, also, was none too startling.

Woburn started off with a rush in the first inning and scored three times on three singles through the box which scooped past second base and a ripe error by Condon, when he dropped an easy hit with men on second and third. One run should have been registered instead of three. Lowell picked up a run in the third, but Woburn came right back with another in the fourth. In the fifth, however, the fireworks began and before the inning had passed Lowell had tied the count. Mahoney walked and stole and remained on second while Condon was being thrown out by Walsh. Ordway drove a ball back to the pitcher and the latter went into a deep fog bank and tried to get Mahoney sliding into third. He failed and both men were safe. Ordway went down to second on the first pitched ball. Mahoney scored on Cahill's hard drive down the third base line which Walsh did well to stop. Reynolds lifted an easy fly to left field and the drop-out safe among the dories at the laundrette of Curry, and Cahill followed Ordway across the plate. Three runs.

The sixth brought five more runs to Lowell and they tricked over the plate too fast to be counted. A double by Reynolds, singles by Lawler, Ordway, Cahill and O'Leary, a fielder's choice and a base on balls to Gleason manufactured the runs. The home club scored twice in the seventh on hits by Lawler, Gleason and Condon and in the eighth, Gleason. Woburn picked up one run in the seventh and two in the eighth, but never threatened to tie up the game.

The New England Baseball League will open its 1919 season on May 23, two weeks from today, with Lewiston playing at Lowell, Portland at Fitchburg, and Haverhill at Lawrence. The season will continue in full blast until Labor day, Sept. 1.

The league was formally organized at a meeting of moguls yesterday afternoon at the New American hotel in this city, and Robert C. Paradis was elected league secretary. The teams and cities in the league were represented at the meeting as follows: Lowell, Richard Conway; Fitchburg, William Berger and M. F. Ferguson; Lawrence, Fred Leary; Haverhill, A. L. Gihler; Portland, Heine Wagner, and Lewiston, H. V. Wilson, business manager of the team.

Admission to all games around the circuit was placed at 25 cents, including war tax, with grandstand admissions to be decided by the different teams in their own cities. The league unanimously favored a double-umpire system, with compensation at $8 per game. Visiting teams will get a guarantee of $75, with option on 50-50 of the gross gate, also a rain guarantee of $40. The team player limit will be 13, beginning June 1. This is exclusive of managers not playing. It also was voted to admit all clergymen free to games.

GIANT INFIELD BEWHISKERED BUT IT'S STILL SOME SPEED

John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, has one of the seven wonders of the world in the form of a marvelous infield. Nothing can equal it outside of the old man's home.

First he has Hal Chase, the veteran first sacker, who is still ambitious and wants to work in his thirty-seventh year. This is his sixteenth at major league balling.

Then there is Larry Doyle, at second, who is in his thirteenth year at handling the pill and in July will be thirty-three years old in his stocking feet.

And Fletcher at short, who is going into the field for the eleventh time and guess his age is around 32.

And lastly we have Heinie Zimmerman, at third, who shined away back almost in the days of mustache players. He is 34 years young and still slugging the cover for a place in the sun for his twelfth season.

Regardless of this 138-year-old infield and 45 years of big league experience it is the fastest thing going. They may not have the defensive of the Red Sox but they have a greater attacking power than any other quartet in the game. And a good offense is the best defense. ROY GROVE.

WOODS BEATS ROBERTS

Won Decision in 8 Rounds

at C.A.A.—McRea-Carlson
Bout Called Off

A sudden attack of pneumonia prevented Howard McRea of Cambridge from appearing in the main bout against Harry Carlson of Brockton at the C.A.A. last night, and as the directors were not notified until the 11th hour the bout was called off. The three other numbers on the card were given and ran checks, good for the Shubert-Louisiana mill next Thursday night, were distributed.

Billy Woods of Manchester and Willie Roberts of the Cambridge Radio school appeared in an eight-round number that was replete with action throughout the entire distance. It was a pretty even match up until the half way mark was reached. After the fourth Woods came to the front and picked up a sufficient lead to get the decision. It was a good bout.

In the first preliminary Kid Shea of Lynn was defeated by Jack Madden of Lawrence after six very lively rounds of boxing. Willie McQuade of Lowell made a big hit with those present by his great work against Jack Shea of Lawrence in the second preliminary. Shea opened up by tearing into his man, but the local had blocked off and countered with a couple of "beans" that rocked his opponent. McQuade was quick to size up his man and gave him such a licking that the Lawrence boy's manager, showing splendid judgment, threw in the sponge in the third.

Shubert vs. Louisiana

The announcement that Shubert and Louisiana will appear in the main bout at the next meeting of the club was greeted with much applause. Both are very popular here and are noted for their aggressiveness and hard hitting abilities. They have agreed to weigh in at 121 pounds, and at this weight both should be at top form.

The Triumvirate Card

Frankie Walsh and Frankie Brogan have been matched to appear in a three-round bout at an all star show, to be staged by the "Triumvirate" on next Friday evening. They are great rivals, each claiming the lightweight championship of New England. There will be three other bouts which the matchmaker Mahan expects to be able to announce tomorrow. Arguments over the weight question may mean postponement of the Avilla-Sweeney bout.

YALE ELEVEN WITHOUT CAPTAIN

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 8.—Yale is without a football captain for next fall. It developed today, when Artemus L. Gates, captain-elect, announced that he would not return to Yale next term.

OUTHIT, BUT WIN

Red Sox Play Tight Ball and Blank Washington

BOSTON, May 8.—Although outhit, Boston again shut out Washington yesterday, 2 to 0. The visitors could not do anything with Jones with new bases, and Barry's sensational holding helped his pitcher out. Vitti's double, a pass to Scott, Walters' single and a safe run by Jones accounted for two Boston runs, and Shanks' error on Innis' hit let in another. The score:

CLEVELAND, May 8.—Chicago improved its hold on first place by defeating Cleveland, 4 to 1, in the first game of the series yesterday. A remarkable value demonstration, presenting tire qualities not to be duplicated anywhere in America at our prices. The variety embraces all the most generally advertised makes and those most popular with car owners. Every tire in our store is high grade and guaranteed for full mileage. Several carloads of them were purchased at terrific sacrifices by the manufacturers. No reason for sacrificing them other than to dispose of their season's surplus and the fact that some are slightly blemished, but they are nevertheless just as good as first stock so far as mileage service is concerned.

Our New York connections, being the largest buyers of tires in the country, were accorded the advantage to buy at sweeping prices, enabling us to offer them to you at 1-3 to 1-2 less than regular prices. games have been postponed because of the cold or rain which means many double-headers later on. Not bad from the standpoint of the fans, but tiresome to the players.

Boston college has one of its best ball teams in history and already the inter-collegiate championship race is buzzing loudly. They are going fine but it's a long way from now to the end of the season. Harvard, by way of contrast, is experiencing a very tough year, much to the disgust of the crimson supporters, we imagine.

The White Sox are flying right along in their league and have had little or no trouble in disposing of the western teams so far, but they may run up against a snag when the eastern invasion begins the middle of this month. Let's hope so, anyway.

While a kid picked up by Cleveland off the back lots of the town, has shown exceptional form in his two games this year, winning both of them and making a fine adjunct to the Indians' staff.

It was a rare old day for baseball at Spaulding park yesterday afternoon, and forecasted many pleasant matinees to be enjoyed there this summer when the N.E.L. is going along in full swing. The park is pleasantly situated, its remoteness being the only drawback, and high school games suffer terribly in attendance because of it. The attendance would increase 50 or 100 per cent if the games were staged in First street, for instance.

Now that Manager Borah is sure of not being able to get Sam Rice from Washington he is after Howard Shanks, and may land him before the present series with the Senators in Boston comes to an end. Shanks is good and would help out a rather rickety left field problem.

Babe Ruth, aside from his hitting proclivities, is not very much there as an outfielder, and particularly is this true in regard to his throwing to the bases and to the plate. Boston fans like to recall the deadly sharpshoot of Lewis, Speaker and flooper.

THE WOMAN WORKER

Victory Loan Is Great Test

For Woman With Sales-manship Talents

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 10.—
"For other mothers' sons!"

With this death-bed plea of her only son, Lieut. Edward Rankin Brainerd, ringing in her ears, Mrs. E. R. Brainerd, state chairman of the national woman's liberty loan committee, is leading the drive of California women for the million dollar objective they have set.

"It has become their slogan—"For other mothers' sons!"

Mrs. Brainerd, who raised $30,000,000 in the fourth loan, regards the sale of Victory bonds as not only a summons to patriotic women, but a challenge also to the business talents of the working woman.

"The Victory loan campaign," she said, "presents a glorious test as well as duty to women who have acquired the art of salesmanship."

Mrs. Brainerd has displayed remarkable organizing ability. Her teamwork she has inspired among her co-workers in Los Angeles and throughout the state has received the highest praise and achieved big results.

It was while she was making preliminary plans for the present loan drive that news came of the serious condition of her only son in Camp Zachary Taylor in the south. She reached him just in time to hear those dying words.

"For these other boys, since it can't be for mine," she vowed.

A woman of wealth, perhaps as rich as any woman in California, Mrs. Brainerd's aim is to help those who cannot help themselves. She is a club woman of note, and has proven a dynamo of energy and optimism in the business and social organizations over which she presides or is an active member.

Friends have asked her how she can go on with her work, with grief over her son still so poignant.

"When I was at the hospital where my boy died," she said, "a nurse asked me to step into a room where lay a soldier, seriously ill."

"He is suffering," said the nurse—calling constantly for his mother who cannot come because she has no money. He'll not live long."

"I went in. He opened his eyes and looked at me."

"Whose blessed mother are you?"

he asked. I told him. He smiled and held my hand and thanked me. "There are many such boys whose mothers cannot come to them. And that's why I am out to ask a million dollars from the people of my state—"For other mothers' sons!"

PARK COMMISSION
ELECTS OFFICERS

Clarence M. Weed was elected chairman and Alex E. Rountree secretary of the park commission by that body at its regular monthly meeting last evening.

What had been expected to feature the meeting, the presence of a delegation of young men to protest against the action of the superintendent of parks in forbidding them from playing baseball on Fort Hill park, failed to materialize. Supt. Kernan explained that between $35,000 and $40,000 had been expended on the park and that the commission had always maintained the attitude that it should not be given over to baseball. His action was approved by the commission.

J. Joseph Hennessy appeared in behalf of M. Panagiotopoulos, who wants to establish a confectionery, stand in the lower portion of the bandstand on the North common. The matter was referred to Supt. Kernan for investigation.

The monthly report of the superintendent was accepted and monthly bills approved. There was also a discussion concerning the building of a bathhouse in Varum avenue and the establishment of baseball grounds in the Highland district.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Below is what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Tarzan still remains a mystery at the B. F. Keith theatre. As has been said before he resembles an ape of the higher orders, but he does things that an ape has never before done. Short of stature, he possesses unusual strength, and this is demonstrated time and again during his act. There are comedy elements in the act which crop out occasionally. Just when they occur nobody can tell, but they do happen. Everywhere throughout this country and Canada Tarzan has been a tremendous feature, largely because nobody can account for such unusual intelligence wrapped up in such a body. Whether he be man-ape, or ape-man, or just what nobody seems to be able to decide. It is up to everybody to look over this remarkable animal, and then take a guess at what he is.

The remainder of the bill is of unusual strength. Stephens & Hollister in "Out in California" have one of the prettiest of tabloid musical comedies. It is a bit from the moment Len Hollister comes haltingly onto the stage. Hollister's comedy is quiet, but most effective. Pretty Miss Stephens sings and dances well.

Frank Mullane tells stories, tells them implicitly. Some are of the Irish type, others have to do with Hebrew characters, but whoever he tells about he is sure to bring much laughter. And Mullane sings, too. He is a great favorite.

Brothers who drive dull cars away are Harry and Frank Klein. They are new to this city, but they have recorded a substantial hit, and as ad lib comedians entertain hundreds at every performance.

Sisters who are exceedingly versatile are the Amoroso Girls who sing a little, dance a little and disport generally. One of the pair is a trapezist of more than ordinary ability. The girls have a richness to their manner which is sure to make them friends. And then there are Audie and Rita, two dancing girls, who have a Venetian scene of beauty, and Frank Marekly, the best of all bandoliers. The Kingdrams and a film comedy will be shown at every performance.

Next week, "Another Man's Shoes," a novelty comedy drama, given for the first time on any stock stage, will be the attraction. It comes direct from Broadway, New York. And don't forget that next week marks the closing of the season.

THE STRAND

Don't miss seeing the big triple bill at the Strand. And don't forget that the prices remain unchanged.

"Out of the Fog," the feature in which the great Nazimova is starred, is well worth while, and the other features can't be beat. Evelyn Nesbit in "Thou Shalt Not," is a gripping story taken from real life, in which the star is seen in her best role. "Married in haste" is a bright and delightful comedy drama, introducing the new screen stars, Albert Ray and Ethel Fair. Both young people are wonderfully amusing in their roles and experience little difficulty in making a favorable impression. A Tom Mix comedy—one of those lively, vigorous affairs, in which this great cowboy favorite is seen in some new stunts, helps make the bill thoroughly amusing. Now song features and musical numbers add weight to a program of genuine worth. Patrons are again reminded of the fact that the Strand offers all big specials and not program pictures. And, above everything else, the prices never change. You can't find a better bill in any theatre in New England. And besides this you get proper attention and proper atmosphere at the Strand.

SAIL SATURDAY

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The giant German liner Emperor is expected to sail from Brest Saturday for New York with her first detachments of American troops. The Emperor is of the same size as the Leviathan and when fitted out after her arrival in the United States will be able to carry more than 10,000 soldiers each trip.

GOODWIN NAMED
IN 7 INDICTMENTS

ALFRED, Me., May 9.—In supreme court here yesterday the grand jury returned 18 indictments of which 17 were made public.

Seven of these were against Carl V. Goodwin of Lebanon, now under observation in the insane asylum at Augusta. One was for the murder of Ralph Mapes of Saco, who was killed by a flatiron in his cell in Alfred jail on the morning of March 5. Four other indictments were for arson and two for assault with intent to kill.

Goodwin is charged with attempting to kill Frank A. Coffin, a deputy sheriff of Berwick. And A. Spencer of Lebanon, an officer, and with setting fires to the dwellings of Name Cilley, Hattie Worcester and Mary Bradley, in Berwick, and the homes of William Binisell and John Willey in Lebanon.

MEN'S CLUB ENTERTAINS

Enjoyable Evening Spent by Members of the Grace
Universalist Church

Members of the Men's club of the Grace Universalist church fairly outdid themselves last night when the ladies of the church were entertained at the annual dinner and reception. It was found that the parish rooms were inadequate and therefore, the affair was held in the Highland club hall. The speakers included: Con. John Jacob Rogers, Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Nixon Waterman of the Boston Transcript, and Lieut. George E. Erwin, Jr., of the United States air service, attached to the 100th squadron, British Royal Air Force, who spoke most interestingly on "Night Bombing of Rhinefeld Towns." The dinner was an excellent one and at its close, President Felton L. Moody called to order and presented the speakers. Congressman Rogers spoke of the passage and workings of the draft law and believed them to be two of the greatest things accomplished by the country during the war in face of our traditions against such measures. Mayor Thompson spoke in a happy vein and congratulated the club on its wide and splendid activities. During an intermission the club members elected the following officers to serve during the ensuing year: President, Felton L. Moody; vice president, Leon W. Richardson; secretary, treasurer, Marcus H. Hartwell; executive committee, William A. Hall, Dr. H. E. Davis and Roger W. Gage. Nixon Waterman, associate editor of the Boston Transcript, was the next speaker and he told a number of humorous stories of human life and recited several of his own poems. Lieut. Erwin, with months of flying experience over the Hun lines, gave a thrilling recital of night bombing. In regard to the sensation of flying in the darkness, he said, "If you can imagine yourself flying around in a bottle of ink, perhaps you can realize the sensation." Of course, he said, you cannot hit particular objects, in bombing a city, but one is able to tell whether or not he has hit a town. "There is no doubt but what we could hit the city of Boston, we could not miss it." But, we could not tell exactly what damage we are doing." The longest flight made, he said, was four and a half hours. That does not seem very long, but you can do a lot of thinking in four hours and a half. He told of the method of signaling, when approaching the aerodrome after a flight, and the answering signals that tell them either that it is all right and they can come down, or that they must wait awhile, as other machines have the right of way. If they get no answer at all, it means that there are Hun machines around, and the airmen go away and wait about three-quarters of an hour.

To identify our own machines when they are in the air, there is a "letter of the night" and a "color of the night." These are changed nightly and are not known to the fliers until just before starting out. The letters are signalled by the lights, using the Morse code.

He told of German defense against night bombing. They had a barrage system that would practically cover the whole area of a city. You could not go above them, but you could duck below them, but in doing that you are running into the machine-guns.

They have something that the airmen called "flaming onions," that come up about 50 in a string, blazing. They are phosphorous, and they seem to be joined together. The idea is to set you on fire, or to make you run into them and wreck your machine. Then there is another device, also phosphorous, they used to call "bunches of violets." They look very pretty, he said, especially when you see them at a distance. Another defense is the balloon barrage. They put up three balloons connected by a cable. The secret service would always tell the airmen where there was a balloon barrage, but there was always danger that it had been moved. Another defense was the searchlight. Multiply the automobile light by 10 and you will know something about the power of a searchlight. They are so managed as to catch the airman in a net of light, and he cannot see anything at all. The only way to get out is to slide 500 or 700 feet, and duck under the light.

During the course of the evening Dr. G. Forrest Martin, speaking for the club, presented Mr. Moody an electric lamp in appreciation of his work at the head of the organization, and Mrs. Moody was presented a bouquet of roses. Music was furnished during the dinner by Mrs. Chase's orchestra and incidental entertainment was given by a group of Venetian musicians, Pietro Mordella, leader.

The local evening newspaper is the paper that reaches the home when the whole family is there to read it. The Sun fills this field in Lowell.

CALCINED HUMAN BONES FOUND IN PARIS VILLA

PARIS, Thursday, May 8.—Calcined human bones have been discovered by the police in the villa at Gambass, owned by Henri Landru, who is under arrest on suspicion of having murdered several women. According to the police, he used a furnace heated by some method as yet unknown, to burn the trunks of his victims and destroyed their limbs in the fireplaces of his villa.

A mass of stones was piled against a wall of the villa. These stones evidently belong to a furnace and clinging to them were found bits of melted glass in which were pieces of human bones, including three fragments of human skulls. The floors of the villa show stains presumed to have been caused by blood. Suspicious stains have been found on furniture.

TENTS SHELTER

EVICTED FAMILIES

NEW YORK, May 8.—The mayor's committee on rent profiteering will pitch army tents on school sites in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn to provide shelter for 186 families who expect to be evicted.

There were scores of evictions all over New York city yesterday and household furniture was piled on the sidewalks by city marshals in virtually every ward. Reports were received of several cases in which dispossessed landlords were assaulted by angered tenants.

With the new store the firm of Shaddock & Normandin will just double its floor space.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. E. W. Grove's (Double Strength) Laxative, Bromo Quinine Tablets. Take this home and add to it 4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Farmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.—Adv.

ANOTHER LOWELL MAN PRAISES GOLDINE

Mr. Thomas McNamara, 75 years old, 757 Gorham street, a well known machinist in this city, said: "I have suffered with kidney trouble for 20 years. My back felt lame and sore and I had to get up five or six times a night, and during the day I had no control of myself. I heard so many people praising Goldine for kidney troubles, and here in Lowell I decided to try it. I got my first bottle on April 21 and had my first relief in a few days. I had more than three hours and it used to distress me. Now I can go six hours or more and feel no distress whatever. I wouldn't have believed one bottle of any medicine would have done so much. I hadn't proven it yet, but I had to let my statement be true. You may not know people who suffer as I did."

MR. THOMAS McNAMARA.

LOWELL LADY SAYS GOLDINE HELPED HEART AND STOMACH
Mrs. Margaret Welch, 520 Bridge St., Lowell said to the Goldine man at Carter & Sherburne's drug store in the waiting room: "I want to tell you how Goldine helped me. I had been suffering terribly with stomach trouble, palpitation of the heart and backache. I was so bad that I did not dare eat anything hardly and even the slightest food would distress me. I would fill up with gas till I could hardly breathe. It seemed to crowd my heart and caused it to flutter or beat hard. My head ached a great deal and I became so nervous I could not sleep. My back ached nights so I could not rest, and I felt very weak and tremble. Some of my friends told me how good they had found Goldine to be and advised me to try it. I did, and it helped me. I got the No. 1 for stomach trouble and before I had taken it two days I began to feel hungry. My headache was all gone and my food didn't distress me. I began sleeping better, right away and to feel stronger. I had my backache nearly gone and I haven't had a spell with my heart since I started using Goldine. I think it is just wonderful what that medicine did for me, and so quickly. It is better than my friends said it was and I am glad to have a chance to tell Lowell people about it."

MRS. MARGARET WELCH.

It is interesting to see how many people come to Carter & Sherburne's drug store, in the waiting room, to get Goldine, and hear what they say about it. Hundreds are sent by friends while others hear it talked of so much in the factory, on the street, or by their neighbors, while some say a friend who has used Goldine came over and persuaded me to get it for myself. We wish to thank these hundreds of friends through the city of Lowell and assure them their friends will get the splendid results that they themselves have gotten. We feel Goldine cannot be too highly recommended, for it really does the work. The fifty testimonials of Lowell people prove it. It is not a patent medicine, but what you need if you suffer, come and talk

Tells How Vinol Made Her Strong
"I was weak, all run down, tired all the time, and had Asthma so I could hardly keep around and do my housework. After everything else had failed to help me, Vinol built me up and made me well and strong."—Mrs. Jay Parker.

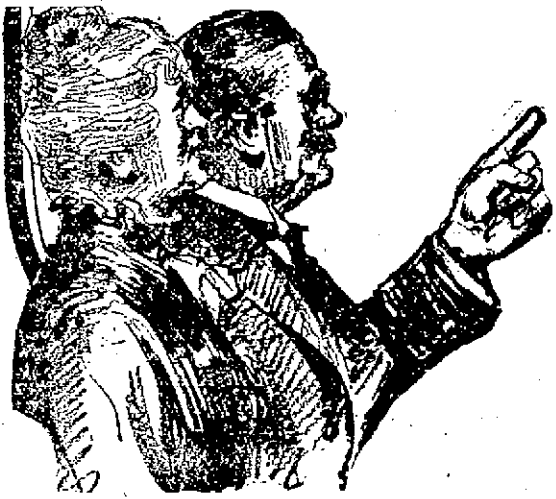

The reason Vinol was so successful in Mrs. Parker's case, is because it contains the necessary elements to create an appetite, aid digestion, make pure blood and create strength. It is the best and most liver peptone—iron and glycerophosphates in Vinol—that does it—you will not be disappointed if you try it.—Liggett's Riker Jaynes Drug Store, Lowell Pharmacy, Falls & Burkinshaw, F. ### SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

Salvation Army's Home
Service Fund Campaign

BOSTON, May —"Let's go!"
That was the cry of the hero dough-boys of the Yankee Division as they went over the top.

That is their cry today, as they prepare for the Salvation Army's Home Service fund campaign in New England for $2,250,000 which begins on May 10 and extends through to May 26.

Y.D. men in every section of New England, with memory of what the Salvation Army lassies did for them in France, are organizing for the $2,250,000 drive—many, indeed, have already completed organization. In Boston, for instance, they are thoroughly organized with Brigadier-General Charles H. Cole, chairman of a committee, which includes Brigadier-General John H. Bherburne and several colonels of the Y.D. Division—Bunnell, Goodwin, Logan, Keville. The same is true of scores of other cities and towns of New England.

And behind the Y.D. men, ready to fight to a finish for the success of the Salvation Army campaign, are the members of the Y.D. auxiliaries and Ladies of Elks in each of the six New England states. They, too, know the worth of the Salvation Army—know it from the stories they have heard from their own who went "over there." And they are going to go over the top for the Salvation Army even as they went over the top for all the Liberty loans. Already the Elks in certain cities and towns have asked that they be permitted to aid in directing the campaign and, securing permission, have established their own committees.

Then, behind all these, are every known business and industry. And not as separate businesses and industries, but organized and united to go the limit in the campaign. Everyone, it seems, is co-operating to help the Salvation Army achieve its purpose—the continuance of its activities on such an enlarged scale that its humanitarian influence shall be felt throughout every part of New England.

Hitherto, as is known, the Salvation Army has been dependent entirely upon money donated to its street collectors and to coins that have been dropped into the tambourines passed at its meetings indoors and out. This method has never been satisfactory. Not only was it a makeshift way of securing funds, but it took the time of Salvation Army workers, lassies and men, when they desired to devote themselves entirely to their errands of mercy. So the campaign whereby the

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength

This preparation for the removal of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any druggist under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggists for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee, country shall contribute $12,000,000. In New England $2,250,000 of that amount.

Greater Boston's quota in the campaign has been set at $700,000.

Quotas for other cities and towns have been fixed according to the local needs. Worcester, for instance, has a quota of $150,000. All, however, benefit alike. For the institutions conducted by the Salvation Army, wherever they may be open to everyone. Thus all New England has its share in the institutions of the Salvation Army, in Boston—People's Palace, the Hotel Rexford, where there are 250 rooms for service men, the Woman's Hospital, in process of construction, the Industrial Home and the many other places, such as camps for children.

Always it has been the work of the Salvation Army to help the unfortunate—man, woman or child. Thousands have been saved by its missionaries—the brave lassies and men who have never yet been found wanting. With the campaign carried through successfully, say those directing the activities of the organization in New England, the great humanitarian purposes may be carried on so long as there may be need for them.

"A man may be down, but he's never out," is the Salvation Army's motto, and to make it good forever the present campaign was instituted.

FUNDS FOR IRISH FREEDOM CAUSE

Further plans to raise $10,000 for the cause of Irish freedom were discussed last evening at a meeting of representatives of local Irish societies at the Richardson hotel. Humphrey O'Sullivan presided. James O'Sullivan reported that Judge J. M. Wall of Roundbrook, N. J. and Senator Callahan of Lawrence had accepted invitations to speak at the mass meeting which opens the drive next Sunday evening in Associate hall.

Humphrey O'Sullivan said that the Friends of Irish Freedom are instrumental in the drive which is about to open and that money must be raised to meet the huge sums which England is expending in the interests of counter-propaganda. Other speakers included Hon. James B. Casey, Patrick O'Hearn, John J. O'Connor, Robert H. Thomas and Michael J. Shanley. The Ladies Auxiliary of the A.O.U. was requested to co-operate in the drive and then publicity details of the campaign were discussed.

NORTH BILLERICA

The young ladies of St. Anne's church in North Billerica conducted a very successful entertainment in the parish house last evening. The affair was conducted for the benefit of the memorial window fund and the receipts of the evening were very substantial. The play given was "Just a Little Mistake" and the different roles were interpreted by the following: Misses Lucy Cooper, Susie Walker, May McAllister, Gladys Switzer, Grace Switzer and Mr. Clifford Watson.

EX-CROWN PRINCE IN POTTERY BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The former German crown prince has gone into the pottery business according to official despatches received here today from Holland. A new company just organized to use the calcareous sands on the island of Wieringen, in the North sea, "has named Mr. Frederick William Hohenzollern as the director manager." It was said he was a large investor in the enterprise.

A specially ambitious piece already put out by the new company is a tile portrait of the director manager in outfit costume against a background of church and cottages. The despatches said it is reported that the tile had been bought for $10,000 for presentation to Premier Clemenceau of France.

WITH THE FIREFMEN

The firemen responded to three telephone alarms from 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon to 5:10 o'clock this morning. The first one was for a brush fire in Mammoth road. The second was at 7:10 o'clock last evening and was for a grass fire in First street. The third was at 5:10 o'clock this morning for a slight blaze in the junk yard of David Ziskind & Co. in Tanner street. There was no damage.

MORE RECRUITS FOR NAVY

Two young men were forwarded to Boston by Chief Petty Officer today. They were Joseph L. Lewis, 258 Hildreth street, landman for electrician radio and Frank Brown, 130 Church street, landman for electrician general. During the past week the naval recruiting service enlisted 1350 men who had no previous naval experience, which is a gain of 122 over the previous week.

Relieve Your Indigestion With a Laxative

Dyspeptics know that indigestion is accompanied by constipation, and that until the bowels can be regulated so they will act freely and naturally every day at a stated time, swallowing dyspepsia tablets is of little use.

A great and growing number of sufferers from this trouble find immediate and then permanent relief by the use of a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The laxative herbs act on the bowels and the pepsin and extracts on the digestive tract, forming an exceptionally effective laxative- tonic.

It is a combination that has been found wonderfully helpful in indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headaches, bad breath, belching and gas on the stomach. A small dose is all that is required.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

PRICE AS ALWAYS

In spite of greatly increased laboratory costs due to the War, by sacrificing profits and absorbing war taxes we have maintained the price at which this family laxative has been sold by druggists for the past 25 years. Two sizes—50c and $1.00.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin The Perfect Laxative

FREE SAMPLES—If you have never used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin send for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. H. Caldwell, 463 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. If there are babies at home, ask for a copy of Dr. Caldwell's book, "The Care of Baby."

NO HARD FEELINGS IN THIS CASE

What can be termed a test case for the benefit of local plumbers and contractors was tried before Judge Pickman in the civil session of the police court a couple of days ago, when the testimony in the case of Charles O. Viaw vs. Zeel Houle was heard.

Mr. Viaw, who is a local plumber and steamfitter, brought suit against Mr. Houle, a contractor, to recover on lead pipings installed in a new house being built by Mr. Houle. It seems that Mr. Houle who was granted the general contract for the building, gave a sub-contract for the plumbing to Mr. Viaw, who in the preliminary work, laid piping amounting to about $10. Owing to the fact that work on the construction of the building was not progressing as fast enough to suit him, Mr. Viaw stopped work on the building and a few months later when he resumed his work, he found that the lead pipes that he had laid, had been cut off and stolen.

Mr. Viaw installed new pipes and then the question arose as to who would settle for the stolen pipes, Mr. Houle claiming that Mr. Viaw should bear the loss because he had not completed his work, while Mr. Viaw claimed that Mr. Houle should make good as he was the general contractor. Inasmuch as numerous thefts of that nature have been committed in the past, Messrs. Houle and Viaw decided the best way out of it was to make a test case, not for the amount involved, but in order to determine who is liable, and hence the suit. Henry V. Charbonneau appeared for Mr. Viaw and Warren Fox for Mr. Houle. Judge Pickman has not yet given his finding in the case.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

Charged with stealing electricity, George Wong was called on continuance before Judge Fisher in police court today, and after entering a plea of guilty was fined $150. He appealed the case and was ordered to furnish bonds to the amount of $200 for his appearance in superior court.

Wong was arrested by the local police a short time ago after it had been found that by the use of an ingenious "double wire" plug attached to the electric meter in his laundry, he had been defrauding the Lowell Electric Light corporation of current valued at over $100.

Adelard Desferre was called on continuance on a complaint charging him with breaking and entering in the nighttime, and larceny of candy and cigars from a local variety store. Probable cause to believe him guilty was found by the court and he was held in the sum of $300 for the grand jury.

Frank Daley came down from New Hampshire yesterday with $50 in his jeans and a magnificent thirst. Today he appeared in police court, minus the greater part of his roll, and with a badly battered countenance. Frank couldn't remember how it happened, but promised to return to the Granite state immediately if given an opportunity. He was fined $10.

A large number of juvenile offenders came before Judge Pickman in the second session, and in most cases were placed on probation with the understanding that restitution be made for damage committed.

ARRESTED FOR THE LOWELL POLICE

Charged with taking money under false pretenses, John Hamilton was arrested last night in New London, Conn., for the local police, and was brought here today by Inspector Walsh.

It is alleged that Hamilton came to the Y.M.C.A. in this city in March and represented himself to be connected with the United States Steel Corp. He asked the "Y" secretary to assist him in securing an assistant, and soon after he had been introduced to a young man furnished by the secretary, who was followed by $12 belonging to his new assistant.

CAN'T DO SHIMMY DANCE IN LOWELL

They can't "shimmy" in Lowell. Superintendent Welch of the local police department has said it, and what the chief says regarding dancing goes. So, girls, you'll have to watch your step when you trip the light fantastic tonight and from now on, and he sure, very sure, that you and your partner don't shimmy.

In speaking of the dance to The Sun man today the superintendent said: The dance known as the "shimmy" has been barred from the dance halls of Boston and several other cities on the grounds that it is both immoral and indecent. I can see no reason why it should be tolerated in Lowell. It is a dance of the "muscle" order, and is bound to have a degrading influence on the morals of young men and women. The young folks of Lowell must be protected from such immoral exhibitions and I intend to see that this is done.

SHOPPING IS SYSTEMATIZED

It is a mistake for you, Mr. Store Manager, to believe that the women of Lowell conduct their shopping in a haphazard manner. The housewife has borrowed and adorned the reputed efficiency of the average business man. We mean, that she is systematizing her shopping.

If you believe the average Lowell housewife gets up from the breakfast table, pours over the ads of the morning paper, throws on a coat and hat and gallops madly and hastily to shop as per the morning paper's advertised bargains you are a victim of a delusion.

Tomorrow's shopping will be planned today—either before or after supper. Tomorrow's shopping will be based on today's bargain advertisements in today's Sun. You must realize that as regards planning a shopping expedition, there are still many women who want to "sleep on a decision." Being guided by an afternoon paper permits of this. This is worth bearing in mind and it explains why you should secure space in

ASPECTS OF THE TREATY

The whole world is in a receptive mood, ready to adjust itself to the new order of things laid down in the peace treaty with Germany. The Germans may squirm and object; but it is probable that they will sign the treaty after due deliberation.

Those who felt that through the influence of President Wilson, the treaty would let the Germans off too lightly, will now change this opinion. Reparation, not indemnity, is the term used for the amounts demanded from Germany, and this is made up of the claims of various nations, Belgium to get the first installment. Moreover, parts of Germany are to be occupied by allied forces until Germany shall have met the claims for reparation.

These are far-reaching and must fall with crushing effect on Germany. She will have to pay for the destruction effected, by her submarines, for which Admiral Von Tirpitz was mainly responsible. Undoubtedly, this gentleman and Count Von Bernstorff will be among the men to be tried with the ex-aiser for violation of the provisions of international law.

It will certainly crush the German pride to have to repair by German labor part of the havoc worked in France, to build 200,000 ship tonnage to be turned over to the allies in part reparation, and to demolish the forts along the Rhine and those of Heligoland, which it took Germany many years to complete at vast expense. Besides, the Kiel canal, behind which the navy of Germany found a secure asylum during the war, will be open to all nations.

Moreover, Germany had intended to absorb Austria, but under the treaty submitted she will have to recognize the independence of German Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland, which means the loss of considerable territory in addition to parting with the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine.

Altogether, the treaty provisions, if carried out, will overthrow forever the military power of Germany. Other treaties are to be framed for Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey and these, especially that dealing with Turkish interests, will be equally as drastic as the German treaty.

Had the treaty been drawn by Germany herself, she could hardly have done a more effective job in destroying the military power of her enemies. Yet France seems to think that she is not sufficiently protected against future attacks by Germany. With her increased territory and the precautions taken to prevent the recurrence of German militarism, it would seem that France has but slight ground for such fear, and yet she wants England and the United States to guarantee her safety against the possibility of such attacks.

This will come before congress as a separate proposition.

The treaty reducing Germany to a minor power, we predict, will be signed within the allotted time and then the world will draw a long breath and thank the Author of all good who sometimes permits nations to follow an erratic course to such an extreme that the world revolts and with all its force, then moves in the opposite direction.

STREET ACCIDENTS

The number of accidents resulting from the operation of motor vehicles on the streets and highways, continues to be quite alarming. It would be wrong to blame the drivers of such vehicles for all or even for a majority of the accidents. It is true that there are many reckless drivers, many who do not fully appreciate the element of danger that is placed in their hands when they sit behind the motor of a high powered machine. They forget sometimes that the highways are being used by pedestrians, by people of all ages, by some who are unable to see or hear clearly, and by others who are unable to jump when they see an automobile bearing down upon them.

The reckless drivers are a menace to public safety and must be either properly restrained or put out of business. But there is another side to the case which is equally important and to which the police authorities must also direct their attention. It is that of allowing children to make a playground of the busiest public streets where street cars and automobiles are passing in succession every hour—we might say every minute—of the day. There are many parents who go to work in the mills, leaving their little children to roam the streets or else under the care of people who do not look after them. In the vast majority of cases of accidents in which children are killed or injured, the drivers are found blameless. The children in their play forget all about the danger and are liable to rush out at any point in front of a motor vehicle.

The question arises then, what can be done to prevent children from being exposed to these dangers. Some of these children who play on the streets have become so bold that they will throw stones at passing autos or sometimes hold out a stick to grate along the side of the vehicles. Many of the owners and drivers of automobiles have reason to complain of damage done to their property in this manner. This is a matter calling for the attention of the police, and the practice has gone so far that it is rather surprising they have not already taken steps to stop it.

If public safety is to be promoted on the streets and highways of our city, the speed maniacs must be restrained and parents must be prevented from allowing children of from one to five years old from using the busiest streets as playgrounds. Even if the little ones were taught to keep on the sidewalks, there would be fewer accidents; but it seems that this precaution is neglected.

WOMEN ENDORSE LEAGUE

What a divergence of views can be expressed at a distance of one mile! At the national capital a certain group of republican senators occupied much time in denouncing the League of Nations and drawing up a "round robin" pledging unalterable opposition to anything that President Wilson suggested as a possible means of preventing future world wars. A few days ago, another gathering in Washington took action on the League of Nations, but not a voice of opposition was heard. The 28th Continental Congress of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, in session in their own building, vigorously applauded resolutions unequivocally endorsing the League of Nations, and further showed their enthusiasm at every mention of the proposed remedy for war.

There was more significance to the action of the Daughters of the American Revolution than a first reading would indicate. The members of this organization are intensely patriotic, but that they could agree unanimously on the important project that was opposed by republican leaders as a party issue and which has rent that party in twain, shows conclusively the tremendous and unanimous swing of public sentiment in support of the league.

The influence of the mother was often felt in politics long before any of the sex received the franchise. How much stronger is it now since the ballot has been placed in the hands of the majority of them! And how appealing to the mother who sent her sons to France to make the world safe for democracy is the thought that the efforts of Woodrow Wilson may make unnecessary another rending of heart strings, as was the case when the call to arms was sounded in 1917!

The "round robins" are disappearing from their perch by ones and twos. When the women of America make known their position on the League of Nations, it will be a brave—or absolutely stupid—senator who seeks to deny their demands.

REPUBLICAN PLANS

Business is turning quickly and prosperously from the conditions of war to the status of peace. All the signs are for a complete revival and a period of activity without precedent. Employment is increasing, wages are stable, new enterprises are arising in all parts of the country. Prospects for good harvests are encouraging. All this has come about without an extra session of congress and in spite of the hurtful filibuster by which republicans defeated important legislation at the very outset of "reconstruction."

If the republican leaders of the next congress attempt to hamper President Wilson, instead of going about the business of passing the measures which a democratic administration framed and would have enacted but for their obstruction, they will halt the recovery of industry and invite trouble. Not President Wilson, but the people at large will be the sufferers.

It begins to appear, however, that discord and factionalism will prevent the republican majority from adopting and pursuing an affirmative, constructive course of legislation in the new congress. They were almost unanimous in their opposition to the democratic program, but they give signs of being hopelessly lacking in unity as to any other policy. But there is something worse than republican inability to agree on a plan of obstruction—bad though that be. That is, they might combine to undo, so far as they can, the good work which the democrats have accomplished in the last six years of their ascendancy. And they have threatened to do that very thing.

There have been at least three sets of opinions among republicans in respect to the League of Nations. Some wanted no league, others favored half a league, and a third group—the largest of all—favored the league advocated by President Wilson. Those in the last category are now not only the most numerous, but also the most insistent. The others have become singularly still and inconspicuous.

Some republican papers are saying that the republicans and the "progressives" will "get together" during the next session of congress. Judging the factions wholly by their exchanges of "courtesies," it is pretty certain that if they do "get together," some one will have to call the police.

As regards the reporters said to allude to men and women 50 years old as "aged," it may be remarked in extenuation that they must be very young newspapermen still carrying marks of verdure and unsophisticated in the matter of feminine longevity.

As to the suggestion that New York papers should band together and publish the names of the landlords who have not boosted their rent and evicted tenants, this question arises as to whether this list or the other is the longer.

It will be less important to those concerned about the Bolshevik movement in Russia to know, as Herman Bernstein reports, that it has "collapsed from within," than to know that it really has collapsed, no matter in what form, or how.

The British delegation at the conference is enthusiastic about Article 21 of the league constitution, because it recognizes the Monroe Doctrine—and incidentally because it doesn't disturb Britain's defensive treaty with Japan.

Europe has many classes. We have but two—workers and loafers. The workers comprise the middle class. The loafers are either aristocrats or hoboes, and soap distinguishes one from the other.

Of course the average striker is a hard person to understand sometimes, but these Lawrence men who join the army exhaust our talent at guessing. Why did they not seek jobs in mills in other towns?

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

For one who is fond of humor there is no better job than that of assistant assessor. Not that the job is a funny one, but because there are many incidents connected with the work that are really amusing. I have not had any experience myself on this particular work, but I have listened to many interesting stories in relation to the job, told by a friend who has been doing the work for the past three or four years. As we all know, the assistant assessor goes from house to house carrying a large red book under his arm, while his pockets are bulging out with notebooks, pencils, erasers, for although the man on the job is not supposed to make errors, it often happens that his mind is somewhere else while taking names for poll taxes and naturally the eraser comes in handy. However, his identity is often mistaken and in many instances he is taken for a vendor or peddler.

"I knocked at a door one afternoon," said my friend, while relating his experiences, "and as seen as the door was opened it was slammed on me. I quickly shouted to the woman that I was not a peddler but an assistant assessor and again the door was opened. The woman blushed and informed me that she believed I was selling books on the installment plan and that she never did business that way. Later on during the day I rang a bell and a little girl opened the door. Upon seeing me, she said, 'My mother is not in.' 'I am not a collector,' I quickly informed her. That worked like magic, for immediately she shouted at the top of her voice, 'Ma, it is not a collector. It is a man from city hall.' I got the information I wanted without having to make a back call. In another place the woman greeted me with a smile and said: 'Of course you are a collector, but whose place did you take?' 'No, I am not,' I replied, 'I am around for poll taxes.' 'But my husband just paid his taxes last week,' she retorted. It took me about five minutes to make her understand what my mission was. 'Do you keep dogs, madam?' I asked a middle-aged woman. 'No, do you?' was the reply. In another house where I asked the same question, the woman replied that there was but one dog in the house and it was out at present. I happened to go into a tenement occupied by two old maids and when I asked who occupied the flat, one of them replied 'We do.' 'Have you any men here?' I asked. 'Men,' she said, 'why what would we do with men?' Of course, I did not undertake to tell them how useful a man might be around the house. I quickly got out and for the benefit of the assessors I wrote opposite the number of the house on my book that such a place was occupied by women only. Some women are very talkative, while others will barely answer your questions. In some places the women will insist upon telling you the abuses they are receiving from their husbands, while others will dwell upon the qualities of their man. This world is really a funny one, but if you are looking for variety join the ranks of the assistant assessors."

There is a reason why one man makes money where another fails in the same undertaking. I saw an example of this today. The representative of a wholesaler came in with a certain supply to deliver to the dealer, who by the way has been conspicuously successful in his business. The merchant took the goods, supposed to be so many pounds packed in a carton, to his scales. It failed to measure up. To make sure he took the box to his other scales. It still fell short and the man who had delivered it was called and took it back. Someone had packed it short by mistake or intentionally and the retailer who takes the goods without weighing and checking loses his margin of profit on that box. It is watching the little things that makes business and life generally a winner.

I understand that there is one article of wearing apparel which the returning doughboys almost universally forget in their purchasing trips in equipping themselves with civilian outfits and that is a pair of garters. They have been so long wearing puttees, with which they have felt no need of these most necessary articles of up-to-date clothing, that they forget all about them until the clerk, perhaps, reminds them of that need.

HOW THIS NERVOUS WOMAN GOT WELL

Told by Herself. Her Sincerity Should Convince Others.

Christopher, Ill.—"For four years I suffered from irregularities, weakness, nervousness, and was in a run down condition. Two of our best doctors failed to do me any good. I heard so much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, I tried it and was cured. I am no longer nervous, am regular, and in excellent health. I believe the Compound will cure any female trouble."—Mrs. ALICE HELLER, Christopher, Ill.

Nervousness is often a symptom of weakness or some functional derangement, which may be overcome by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as thousands of women have found by experience.

The letters constantly being published from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

above its fateline as "the closest thing to a soldier," is at hand and is abundantly supplied with breezy and interesting reading matter that the civilian can enjoy with a relish almost equal to that of the soldier. All the departments of a live, up-to-date newspaper are represented in The Canteen. The Ninth regiment is now with the army of occupation and its present headquarters is at Bendorf on the Rhine. Although there are no records readily on hand, undoubtedly there are some Lowell men in the outfit. To show that the good old American spirit is still with the troops, the following clipping from the sport page is of interest: "The army of occupation is getting ready for the great spring baseball drive. Even the prospective departure of some of the divisions cannot eradicate the lure of the great American pastime from the minds of the Yanks in Rhineland. All that is needed is good spring weather."

It is almost 20 years ago since the late Rev. Walter J. Shanley whose funeral was held Tuesday in Danbury, Conn., visited in Lowell and those who remember him will recall his earnest plea for total abstinence as laid down by Fr. Mathew and his striking appearance in the pulpit and on the stage. Lowell members of the Mathew Temperance institute who afterward heard Rev. Dr. Shanley at C.T.A.U. conventions in Chicago and Providence tell me that the reverend doctor had lost none of his old time ardor in the cause of total abstinence and in the work of the National Catholic Educational association. He will be missed in many circles where he wielded an influence for good, though it is cheering to reflect that the benefits of his useful career will fructify a hundred-fold in days to come.

John Jacob Rogers, speaking to the Victory loan team workers in Edison hall Wednesday night in the interests of the local drive, snipped out several pertinent remarks relative to the financing of the United States government that were worthy of a much larger audience. The congressman believes to its fullest advocacy in a budget system of yearly finance if the federal government is ever to assure the people of the country that money is being wisely spent. He says, further, that a budget system would only tend to rectify the present system, but it would be a fine start toward an essential conclusion. "There is not a man in this room, nor a man in this city, nor in this state," he said, "who, for one minute would tolerate a finance system in his business, be it ever so small, similar to that in vogue in the federal government. And if he did tolerate it he would become bankrupt almost over night. There is not a town or a city in Massachusetts that does not employ a yearly budget system, and why not

Congress-lege, went over a private and came back at the age of 24 years, a lieutenant colonel; another, Cabot of Boston, went over a second lieutenant and came back a major, and there are a score of others who showed the world their abilities and never "cracked" in the pinch. Capt. Leggat told of a battalion coming out of action, hoping for a little rest in a reserve area and dropping in the mud from sheer exhaustion, only to receive orders to go back into another part of the line immediately to relieve a unit of the 75th Division, and of having to go around and shake the men from their sleep in the mud to send them back. "It would make your heart break," he said, "to see these lads, officers as well as men, try to pull themselves together and stay awake long enough to get up into the line again." He also told of two men of the division who volunteered to capture a particularly offensive machine gun nest and when given permission, actually went out into the open and exposed themselves to draw the fire of the gun, while their comrades rushed forward to put it out of action. "For such acts are asked to lend our money."

Capt. John C. Leggat Wednesday night gave the Victory loan workers an aggregating inkling of what his talk on "The History of the 26th Division" embraces when he cited three or four instances of especial heroism and duty more than well done by more youngsters in the V.D. Division. "Kids" he called them, with a born and superlative faculty for leadership and initiative and their acts laid the foundation for the splendid record of New England's own division in Europe. ### WIDE RANGE IN RETAIL FERTILIZER PRICES

The striking disclosure is made in figures gathered by the United States department of agriculture that retail prices of fertilizer materials paid by farmers at the present time vary considerably as between states and regions and widely as between counties in the same states. In some instances the variation is more than 100 per cent. For instance, a farmer in one county in Tennessee is paying $51 a ton, and in another county $150 a ton for nitrate of soda, and in Georgia a farmer is paying $17.50 in one county and $49.70 in another for acid phosphate.

The department has made inquiry through the county agricultural agents who work under the direction of the department and the state agricultural colleges, of the retail price asked by dealers for the principal fertilizer constituents as of May 1, 1919, in the states where fertilizers are used to a considerable extent. The data has not yet all been received, and the inquiry is being pushed, but the results so far obtained show such wide discrepancies in the prices for fertilizer material within the states and, in many instances, such an unreasonable spread between the wholesale and retail prices that the department feels justified in making a preliminary report for the information of the farmers.

Prices of Nitrate

The wholesale quotation on nitrate of soda in New York city was $88.50 per ton from Dec. 9, 1918, to Feb. 24, 1919. On March 3 it was $54 per ton and on March 10 it was quoted at $81.50 per ton, which price has prevailed up to and including April 28. The average retail price per ton reported from the New England states was $102.56; from Pennsylvania $101.35; from the East North Central states $99.48; from the South Atlantic states $99.35; from the East South Central states $102.70; and from the West South Central states $105.11. Differences in freight rates no doubt have some influence in these variations among states and regions but freight rates alone can not explain the wide variations in prices in different counties in the same state as shown by a further analysis of the figures.

In five counties in Connecticut the average retail price varies from $55 to $144.67 per ton. In the county of Fairfield the range is from $129 to $160 per ton. In three counties in Pennsylvania the range is from $79 to $120 per ton; in 11 counties in Indiana the range is from $81 to $102.50 per ton; in 13 counties in Maryland from $58 to $110; in 32 counties in Virginia from $51 to $140; in 45 counties in South Carolina from $34 to $150; in 20 counties in North Carolina from $38 to $110; in 65 counties in Georgia from $32 to $125; in 20 counties in Florida from $30 to $120; in nine counties in Kentucky from $31 to $200; in 30 counties in Alabama from $30 to $150; in 17 counties in Mississippi from $32.50 to $129; in five counties in Arkansas from $35 to $105; in 14 counties in Louisiana from $31 to $140; in 14 counties in Texas from $31 to $150; and in 11 counties in Tennessee from $31 to $150.

Prices of Acid Phosphate

In the case of acid phosphate the wholesale price in New York remained at $18 per ton from February, 1918, to October of the same year. In November the average quotation was $17.67, from December to February it was $17, in March $15.87, and in April $16.22. The average retail price per ton as reported by the country agents in the New England states was $20.50; in Pennsylvania, $20.22; in the east north central states, $20.07; in the south Atlantic states, $20.25; in the east south central states, $23.87; and in the west south central states, $20.60.

In three counties in Massachusetts the average retail price per ton ranges from $27 to $31.50; in five counties in Connecticut from $25 to $37; in eight counties in Pennsylvania from $27.65 to $31.25; in 35 counties in Indiana from $27.50 to $35; in 51 counties in Tennessee from $25 to $37.50; in 47 counties in Alabama from $22 to $30; in 27 counties in Arkansas from $25.15 to $40; in 51 counties in Georgia from $17.50 to $43.70; in 38 counties in Kentucky from $25 to $43; in 39 counties in Texas from $24.25 to $70; in 42 counties in Louisiana from $22 to $34.50; in 41 counties in Mississippi from $24 to $35; in 20 counties in West Virginia from $28.75 to $32; in 53 counties in Virginia from $21.25 to $42.80; in 61 counties in North Carolina from $23 to $29.99; in 37 counties in Florida from $21 to $13; in 23 counties in South Carolina from $21 to $38; and in 15 counties in Maryland from $21 to $29.50. These prices are all based upon 16 per cent acid phosphate. Seven county agents in Georgia report an average price of $18.79 per ton in bulk and $26.35 in sacks, making a difference of $7.57 for sacks which during war conditions did not exceed $3.50 for sufficient sacks and labor to carry a ton.

Further details are being assembled by the department and will be published for distribution among the farmers of United States for their information.

Better Be Careful About Your Kidneys

BY N. B. COOK, M.D.

Food taken into the stomach goes through various chemical changes, and some of these changes are poisons that must be sifted out and disposed of. It is the duty of the kidneys to do this. When the kidneys do not fully perform their vital work, death may be only a few hours away. Happily, Nature has provided warning alarms telling people when their kidneys are not well. These warnings come in the form of dragging pains in the small of the back, weak stomach, low spirits, chills, nausea, headache, scanty urine and frequent desire to pass it, short breath, numbness, cramps, coated tongue, bad breath, puffiness under the eyes, thin blood, dry skin, ringing in the ears, spots before the eyes and many other symptoms. All come from the one cause of kidneys that are not filtering the poisons out of the system. To overcome these troubles, Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., compounded what he calls Anuric Tablets. No other kidney medicine is its equal in giving relief and re-establishing healthful work in the kidneys. The treatment is very simple, as you need nothing except water when taking Anuric Tablets—a glass of water with each tablet. This washes and flushes the kidneys while the medicine itself is dissolving the uric acid poisons and driving them out. Anuric Tablets are made double strength, so that they dissolve uric acid the same as hot water dissolves salt or sugar. Most people need Anuric Tablets because most people have uric acid. Better get that poison out of your body for safety's sake, and better begin today.

To gently and agreeably coax the bowels back into normal activity, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are just as good for constiveness as his Anuric Tablets are good for kidney disorders, and that is saying a great deal.

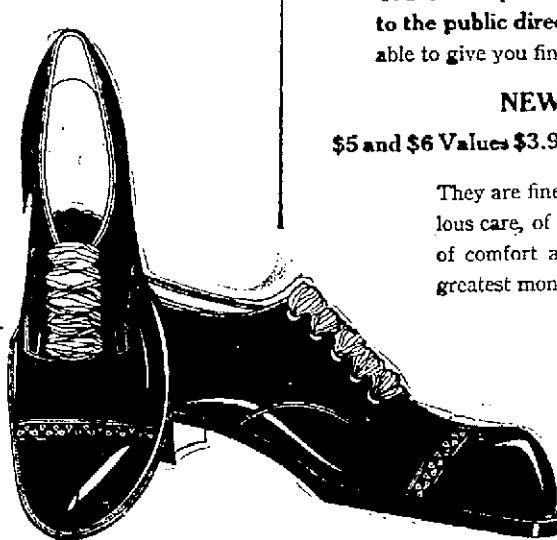

Dr. Jacob and Rosalie Tumbiwezc, died yesterday at the home of her parents, 15 West Fourth street. Burial took place at 2.30 o'clock

BATTERY F BANQUETED

John P. Hall Honors Fighting Heroes of the 102d Field Artillery

Resounding with thrilling tales of the fighting front in France and vibrant with the exultant spirits of more than 150 fighting men of Battery F of the 102d Field Artillery, the Dom Polski hall in Coburn street last evening presented a scene of cheer and rejoicing that formed an unofficial yet wholly acceptable debut to the period of celebration which Centralville is tendering these days to the veterans of the world war.

proposition in its very essence and no less a good sportsman than John P. Hall, the well known Lakeview avenue business man, was the guiding hand behind the affair. It seems that last winter one of the boys in Battery F, elated at the thought of an early home-coming, wrote a letter to Mr. Hall in which he drew a picture of what the home-coming of the battery would be like, the entertainments and banquets that would be staged and the part that each member of the battery would play in the celebration.

When Mr. Hall received the letter he smiled and then filed it away for future reference. Little evidence did he give outwardly of the plotting and planning that was going on in his mind until last evening the result of several months' scheming burst forth into a happy and brilliant entertainment for the boys of Battery F and every detail pictured in the letter written in France many months ago was carried out to the letter—even to making soldiers who had never made a speech in their lives stand up and tell the several hundred people before them what they had seen and heard and experienced overseas. Thus was the affair most novel and picturesque.

The hall was appropriately decorated for the occasion and the opening barrage of the evening was an excellent supper served by the P. J. Page Co., that effectively transferred the thoughts of the soldiers from canned food to better things in the culinary profession.

When cigars had been passed around Mr. Hall arose and welcomed his guests. He told of the entire affair, occasion and how the letter he had received some months ago while the men in front of him were still in devastated France.

Upon the conclusion of his address of welcome Mr. Hall was given three rousing cheers that proved close rivals to the French 15's in the matter of volume. Timothy McCarthy was then introduced as the toastmaster of the evening and a witty presiding officer was he. He handled the battery before him with all the experience of a veteran commander and assigned each member his duty as an entertainer precisely as the boys had outlined themselves in their letter to Mr. Hall. And each soldier, gallant military man that he was, responded without hesitancy, but with a little quaking inside, although military discipline forbade him from betraying his feelings. Songs and dances and speeches in profusion made the evening pass all too quickly. And when the soldier talent showed signs of waning, civilians were drafted into the service, among them Commissioner James E. Donnelly, James Daley with his tuneful pipes, James O'Garra, "Marty" Maguire, who sang "Wandering in the Memories of Childhood," one of Mr. Hall's earlier compositions, and several others. The Lowell Cadet band was present to keep things stirring in a musical war.

One of the happiest features of the evening was the presentation to Mr. Hall of a German knife captured from a German officer by the battery. And with the souvenir went an ovation to the host of the evening that will ring in his ears as long as he lives.

GERMANS MAY REFUSE TO SIGN

VERSAILLES, Thursday, May 8 (By the Associated Press).—The question whether Germany will sign the treaty or not is the pressing one of the hour. It is impossible, as yet, to gain an indication of the attitude of the German plenipotentiaries here, but information coming from German sources goes to show it is quite possible the Ebert-Scheidemann government is considering its fate if it should accept such a drastic treaty. It may choose to refuse to sign the treaty and go down in a blaze of patriotic glory.

According to this information, the greatest shock to the Germans was given by the formula establishing the frontier of Poland, giving, as it does, a great part of West Prussia and a considerable seacoast to Poland, in addition to large coal fields in upper Silesia. When the German delegates left home they expected to hear rather more moderate proposals regarding the Polish frontier and Danzig.

The delegates also question the possibility of Germany paying reparation to the extent laid down by the treaty, and they doubt whether they should sign clauses which they are said ostensibly to regard as impossible to fulfill. They object also to the surrender of their entire mercantile fleet, arguing that this would force them to pay an additional indemnity to England in freight under the virtual British monopoly of ocean tonnage which they assume would soon follow the elimination of the German mercantile fleet.

MORE GERMANS AT VERSAILLES

VERSAILLES, May 9 (By the Associated Press).—Eight new members of the German delegation have arrived here. Among them was Count Alfred von Oberdorff, a member of the German armistice commission. He brought credentials as a minister plenipotentiary and is expected to take an important part in the negotiations.

COMES FAST IN CLOSING HOURS

Lowell and the District Will Put Victory Loan Quotas Over Tomorrow

Only $300,000 More Needed in City, and Big Oversubscription Is the Goal

Lowell offers her citizens $300,000 worth of Fifth Victory loan bonds to complete the city's quota before tomorrow night, and more will be put on the market just as fast as they are called for as the city piles up its oversubscription. It's the last chance, the last opportunity to invest in glittering United States government bonds—safe beyond a shadow of a doubt, and the only real way of filling the cup of patriotism, duty and thankfulness to overflowing.

Lowell needs only $300,000 more in individual subscriptions to obtain her quota, and she knows she will get it. It will be "Over the Top With the Best of Luck" by tomorrow night unless all of today's signs fail. The city's quota is $5,275,000 and the North Middlesex district quota, of which Lowell is the hub and stalwart pillar, is $7,001,000, and both will be swept off the boards with a whole of an oversubscription if the public will only "come through" during these closing hours of the last campaign and rise to the demands of its fullest obligations.

The Latest Figures
This noon Lowell's total stood at approximately $4,900,000 and the district as a whole had $5,505,600 of its $7,001,000 quota.

MUTINOUS PLOT IS DISCOVERED

Conspiracy To Induce British Sailors and Soldiers in Mutiny Feud

Four Stations in France and Several in England Involved—Papers Seized

LONDON, May 9.—A conspiracy to induce British sailors to mutiny and soldiers to demobilize themselves by marching out of their barracks, has been discovered, according to the Daily Mail. The premises of various persons have been searched and documents seized. The stations involved, the newspaper says, include four in France and several in England, while the sailors in naval ports have been circled with a view to inducing them to seize the ports and invite the soldiers and police to join them.

The object of the plot is stated to be to compel the government to use force if the projected disorders should occur, the organizers believing that this might precipitate anarchy.

LINCOLN'S APPEAL TO FINISH THE JOB

With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Let us at least lend our money to secure the victory and support the government for which so many heroes gave their lives.

EX-GOV. WHITMAN CALLS QUESTION INSULT

NEW YORK, May 9.—Frank Moss, counsel for State Senator Thompson in the investigation being conducted here today into the senator's bribery charges, today asked former Governor S. Whitman a question which the latter declared was insulting.

"Did you say to any senator," inquired Moss, "that you would pardon a man in whom he was interested if he would vote for the confirmation of George W. Perkins as food commissioner?"

"I object to the question as an insult," replied the former governor. Moss said the senator was Salvatore Cottillo, a member of the investigating committee.

WILL HONOR HER FIGHTING SONS

Centralville in Holiday Attire For Big Reception to Soldiers and Sailors

Parade of Five Divisions Will Embrace All Over-the-River Organizations

Tomorrow will be a red-white-and-blue letter day in Centralville and from present indications it will be well for historians of the populous and popular section across the river to make a special effort to "cover" the doings of the day, for surely Centralville has never planned a more important and glorious time in her long career. History is going to give an extra page to the affair if arrangements are carried out as now planned.

On the eve of her formal reception to the sons whom she sent forth to wage the cause of the allies on land, sea and in the air, Centralville is gaily clad and exuberantly expectant. The celebration spirit tingles the air as soon as one crosses Centralbridge and finds himself encompassed in a wealth of bunting and banners. Stores and residences have donned the common holiday garb of the national colors and the setting is complete in its every detail.

Briefly, the program of the day is as follows: A big parade of five divisions which will embrace every organization in Centralville as well as the returned heroes will begin at 3.30 in the afternoon, forming in Reed street and proceeding to Sixth, West Sixth, Lowell, Lakeview avenue, Aiken avenue, West Sixth, Coburn, Hildreth, Bridge and First street where it will be dismissed; a banquet immediately after the parade in St. Louis hall, Bolvoort street, at which noted speakers will be present to enjoy with Centralville's heroes a turkey supper, and a band concert beginning at 8 o'clock and continuing until 10.30 which will be interspersed with community singing under the direction of Albert Edmund Brown. Just where this latter feature will be held the committee in charge has not yet decided, but it will be in a location easily available to all residents of Centralville.

Not only will Centralville foster and honor her fighting youth, but she has extended a call to the entire city to take part in the welcome home exercises to the several thousand men that left her confines, jumping from the banks of the Merrimack to the banks of the Rhine before the curtain had fallen on their heroic exploits.

Dr. Richard J. McCluskey will be the toastmaster at the banquet and among the speakers will be Congressman Rogers, Mayor Thompson, Senator Arthur W. Coburn and Charles O'Connor of South Boston, one of the country's most noted orators.

The parade should be a marvel of beauty and patriotism. Every marcher has been asked to carry an American flag and 5000 is a conservative estimate of the number who will be in line.

Roster of the Parade
Chief Marshal William H. Noonan this afternoon announced the roster of the parade, route of march and various directions to participants in the following general orders:

The chief marshal will establish headquarters at the corner of Reed and Sixth streets at 3 p. m.

The parade will start at 3.30 p. m. All organizations are expected to be in their designated places not later than 3.15 p. m.

No flags will be carried in the parade. Continued to Page Three

SHIPPERS MEET AT TRADE BOARD ROOMS

A meeting of 20 local shippers was held at the rooms of the board of trade this morning for the purpose of giving officials of the Boston & Maine and N. Y. N. H. & H. railroads an opportunity of explaining the details of a shipping guide which they propose to put into effect in Lowell in the near future, if local shippers favor it.

Among the railroad men present who discussed the affair were J. H. Barrett and C. G. Butler of the N. Y. N. H. & H. road and W. H. Towne, F. M. Morgan, Harrison Brown and F. W. Brown of the Boston & Maine.

The shipping guide aims to show the days on which consignments of freight of less than a carload will be accepted and its purpose is to effect more prompt delivery as well as conserve labor and equipment.

The shippers present seemed favorably inclined to the guide and it is probable that it will be adopted in the near future.

They were greeted at the station by a big crowd which escorted them over the three mile route to their temporary residence.

MORE DISORDERS BREAK OUT IN TOLEDO

TOLEDO, Ohio, May 9.—Disorder in connection with labor troubles at three Toledo industrial plants, including that of the Willys-Overland Co., was renewed today, when special officers on duty at the plant of the Ford Plate Glass Co., fired on 50 employees approaching the timekeeper's office. To quell what appeared about to be a riot, the officers, who included a special force of returned soldiers, fired low and no one was hit. The men then dispersed. Later an alleged I.W.O. agitator was arrested when he took refuge in a house.

THE LAWRENCE STRIKE

Evidence Involving Prominent Persons To Be Submitted to Grand Jury

LAWRENCE, May 9.—Evidence involving persons prominent in the wage controversy in the textile plants here will be submitted to the Essex county grand jury in Newburyport next Monday, according to an announcement today by City Marshal Timothy J. O'Brien. Marshal O'Brien declined to say what the nature of evidence was but said that much of it had been obtained from John Daltuso, formerly a member of the strike committee who appealed to the police for protection a few days ago, saying his life had been threatened. Twelve persons, including two or three women, were involved, Mr. O'Brien said.

Angelo Grocco, chairman of a committee of foreign speaking business and professional men who are working to end the strike, announced that Italian strikers would meet late today with a view to electing delegates to confer with the mill men.

VATICAN ORGAN HOPES FOR COMPROMISE

ROME, Thursday, May 8. (By the Associated Press).—The Observatore Romano, the organ of the Vatican, in an evidently inspired article today expresses the hope that a compromise will be reached by which Rome will be assigned to Italy in exchange for concessions to Jugoslavia in Dalmatia.

Once Great Britain, France and Italy agree to this compromise, adds the newspaper, "there will only remain to overcome the opposition of President Wilson, but we trust that the eminent chief of the great republic, disregarding the utterances against him, which the majority of the Italians have deplored, will with his approval of the compromise insure the final success of the great work of universal peace to which he has dedicated so much study."

STORY OF MAN WHO MADE GOOD

John J. Sullivan Lost Leg and Hearing, But Kept On Plugging

Is Loud in Praise of Industrial Accident Board Vocational Training Division

Injured soldiers, sailors or incapacitated persons of any kind who are anxious to know how they may rehabilitate themselves and become self-supporting in spite of their injury or infirmity will find a good friend and advisor in the person of John J. Sullivan, of 158 Appleton street.

Himself a sufferer of seriously impaired hearing and also having suffered amputation of his right leg above the knee as the result of a railroad accident, Mr. Sullivan intends to boost the quiet but effective work now being carried on by the vocational training division of the industrial accident board because, as he says, had it not been for the great humane work it has successfully undertaken, he might now have to eke out a miserable living as a penniless peddler.

To describe the work of this division of the industrial accident board in brief, before telling Mr. Sullivan's story, it can be said that for all persons in the state, both men and women, this department's aim is to find opportunity for the applicant to learn a trade so as to in time become self-supporting. This applies to persons injured in factory work of course and no matter how injured, the department will do its best, even to the extent, in a number of cases, of financially taking care of a man or woman while the trade is being learned.

This great work is a work in which Massachusetts takes leadership. Only a few states in this country have reached the stage of progressiveness in social legislation where they have started to do this work.

Mr. Sullivan's Story
John J. Sullivan's home is at Hillsborough, N. H. He went to high school there a couple of years and afterward went to work in a textile mill. He was an intelligent and progressive kind of a man and in time was given a foremanship.

Then, according to the vocational division authorities, came the railroad accident which resulted in his almost total loss of hearing and the amputation of his leg. Sullivan stopped to think seriously of the future, to take stock and to make a new start without "scrapping" his past experience. Through the vocational division he was induced to become interested in the subject of storage batteries. He asked advice of the vocational division as to what a man in his condition could do and not only was the advice promptly forthcoming but more, he was taken under the wing of the department, so to speak, and a chance found for him to see what he could do.

JOHN J. SULLIVAN

Slick-tongued Wins

"It should not be forgotten," said Mr. Sullivan to The Sun man who interviewed him at his shop at 158 Appleton street, "that I was a mechanic by inclination and experience before I got hurt and so I perhaps took to this business of making and repairing storage batteries with more aptitude and readiness than an inexperienced man would. After I had laid my case before the people at the state house they hustled around and got me a place to learn the business with a firm in Newbury street, Boston. I was there three months and learned enough about the business so I could come back here to Lowell which had been my home for a number of years and set up business in storage batteries.

"I cannot help looking at this problem from the point of view of an incapacitated man, which is natural, but just the same, I believe this work of rehabilitation for cripples and incapacitated people is one of the most important and humane things now being done in our entire country."

"The day of the cripple seen peddling pencils or begging alms on the street has gone by, I think, and just as soon as the public becomes a little better educated to the fact, it will be known that with all the opportunities open to them that there are now these men need not peddle pencils or beg."

Brother Lost His Arm

"I had a brother in New Hampshire who lost his arm by tuberculosis. He felt badly at first as it was his right arm. But he got courage. The rest of us in his family told him we would help him all we could. He got some courage and went into the insurance business. He could write insurance with his left hand, after a while, as well as he probably ever would have been able to with his right hand. This was at Manchester. To make a long story short, he made good in the insurance business and was given charge of opening up a new territory up around Hillsborough, our home town, and lived six years after he lost his arm."

STRIKERS BACK AT WORK

Painters' and Paperhangers' Strike Settled—Molders Want Eight Hour Day

The journeymen painters and paperhangers, who have been out on strike a week or more because of a refusal on the part of the master painters to grant them an increase of ten cents an hour, returned to work this morning pending a final settlement of their demands. The vote to return to work was taken at a meeting held last evening with President Robert Moore in the chair, and it was explained that the settlement was only provisional, the conditions of the settlement not being made public.

Molders Strike
About 120 molders, all members of the Molders' union and employed in local shops, went out on strike yesterday to enforce their demands for an eight-hour day. Five foundries are affected by the strike and it is expected that the men employed in other shops will also fall in line. The demand for an eight-hour day was presented the employers over a month ago and several conferences have been held since, but no agreement was reached, so that yesterday the strike was inaugurated. The molders are now working nine hours a day.

Tell Dyspeptics What to Eat

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things. Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acids and prevent the formation of gas or sourness by the use of a little Bisulphate of Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach, antacid than Bisulphate of Magnesia, which you can get from any drug store, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestant.

Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat." Liggett-Riker-Jaynes' Drug Store and other leading druggists.—Adv.

Naval Terms of Treaty To
Be Presented to Austria
Wipes Out Austrian Navy

Council of Four and Council of Foreign Ministers
Resumed Sessions Today

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, May 9.—The naval terms of the treaty to be presented to Austria, as they have been completed, entirely wipe out the Austrian navy. All the ships of that navy, large and small, are to be surrendered. Their disposition among the allies is to be adjusted later.

Both the council of four and the council of foreign ministers resumed their sessions this morning. The former is giving special attention to the impending negotiations between the allies and Austria and the latter is discussing reports on the boundaries of former Austro-Hungarian territories.

Discuss Italy's Claims
President Wilson and Premier Clemenceau, Lloyd George and Orlando discussed the diplomatic situation yesterday morning and in the evening took up the question of Italy's claims to territory on the eastern shore of the Adriatic, says the Havas agency. The council of foreign ministers considered the problem of the frontiers of Hungary yesterday.

May Modify Treaty

It is generally believed that the Germans will answer the delivery of the treaty of peace by proposals relative to certain phases of the document. A competent commission will examine the German answer and if modifications are necessary the Germans will be notified. It is expected that in this rejoinder, the enemy will be allowed four or five days to agree definitely to the whole treaty. It is therefore, probable that from 25 to 30 days will elapse before the pact is finally signed.

Austrian Delegates Not Named

The Austrian peace delegation, numbering 40 to 50 persons, is expected to arrive at St. Germaine on May 12. Information received from French sources is that the delegation has not as yet left Vienna, owing to difficulties encountered in selecting its members because of differences of opinion regarding the proposed incorporation of German Austria in Germany.

Despatches received here today indicate that while Franz Klein, president of the delegation, favors annexation, Professor Lammasch, another in-

Local Victory Loan

already oversubscribed, and at least five of the others will be over tonight. Lowell took big strides forward this morning when the purchases were headed by an additional subscription of $200,000, received through the Union National bank from the Lowell Institution for Savings, making that bank's total $600,000. The local committee knows the whereabouts of about $600,000 of the $900,000 needed at the close of banking hours last night to secure the city's quota and there is every reason to believe that the city and district will come through with over-subscriptions.

Big Subscriptions Today

The Union National bank transacted about $255,000 worth of loan business this forenoon, including a $17,000 subscription from the employees of the Appleton Mfg. Co. The C. B. Coburn Co. has been instrumental in obtaining an allotment of $12,500 to Lowell as a part of the large country-wide subscription of E. I. Dupont, de Nemours & Co.

Lowell men and women must subscribe at least $300,000 to put Lowell over her quota before tomorrow night.

Today and tomorrow constitute the last chance. The situation throughout New England is looked upon as desperate by the loan officials in Boston and they have sent out a last appeal for a keen realization of how truly desperate the situation has become. The time is long past when it is safe to sit back and let "the other fellow" do it, and everyone must assume a personal responsibility now for putting the loan across no matter what the sacrifice. Lowell and North Middlesex district must not be satisfied to simply obtain the designated quotas, but must work for a large over-subscription, to do our part, at least, in the New England campaign.

According to a tabulation made this morning, with no report available from the town of Billerica, and with incomplete reports from Chelmsford, Tewksbury and Westford the 20 towns in the district have subscribed $1,505,500 against a district quota with Lowell subtracted of $1,726,000. Billerica is matly $100,000 of her $122,000 quota, which would leave a balance in all the towns of about $100,000 to put them into the safety zone.

Dunstable Leads

The majority of towns have responded wonderfully to this last appeal, led by Dunstable which has over-subscribed almost three times her quota. Bedford has $35,000 against a quota of $75,000; Roxbury, $55,000 against a quota of $50,000; Burlington, $13,000 against a quota of $11,000; Carlisle, $75,000 against a quota of $70,000; Chelmsford, $210,000 against a quota of $210,000 (incomplete); Dunstable, $70,000 against a quota of $25,000; Graton, $150,250 against a quota of $150,000; Littleton, $11,000 against a quota of $10,000;

Reading, $33,000 against a quota of $300,000; Tewksbury, $50,000 against a quota of $50,000 (incomplete); Westford, $155,000 against a quota of $155,000 (incomplete); Wilmington, $30,200 against a quota of $75,000; and Pepperell, $75,000 against a quota of $70,000.

Aside from Billerica which has made no report to date against her quota of $122,000, the following towns are still behind: Acton, $61,000 against a quota of $56,000; Ayer, $36,000 against a quota of $170,000; Dracut, $45,000 against a quota of $0,000; North Reading, $12,100 against a quota of $15,000; Shirley, $32,000 against a quota of $57,000; and Tyngsboro, $16,000 against a quota of $20,000.

This constitutes an over-subscription in the towns to date of $118,500 and an under-subscription of $237,500 which includes a shortage of $22,000 in Billerica. This makes a total of $119,160 to get in the towns, and there is no doubt of this being subscribed before tomorrow night. Take a part of the $300,000 needed, and then add to it to put the city high up in the honor class.

PUBLIC RECEPTION

FOR NOTED WOMAN

A public reception will be held in honor of Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, former president of the National Federation of Women's clubs, who comes to Lowell on Saturday, May 17, to address a large mass meeting of young women. ## CONCERT AND PAGEANT

Entertainment in Connection
With Work of Religious
Instruction School

A unique entertainment at the First Congregational church last evening skillfully blended religion, the city's civic spirit, the Americanization work being carried on, and last but not least, real patriotism.

It was officially designated as a concert and pageant in connection with work of the Lowell School of Religious Instruction. The musical part was given under the direction of Prof. H. Augustine Smith of Boston, who has worked for quite a long time, and very hard, drilling the large chorus heard so enjoyably last night.

The musical program was opened by the chorus singing Colebridge-Taylor's "Viking Song." The accompanist at piano was Mr. Arthur C. Spaulding. The soloist was a little 12 year old Boston girl, Lillian A. Sawyer, a cornetist who delighted the audience with her first number, the Sea Flower Polka, phrased for cornet, a composition written by the noted Hollins.

Community singing had its show after this number and the audience under guidance of Prof. Smith assisted by the chorus of 60 voices and the little girl cornetist sang "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" and one of two verses of America. The chorus next offered Carpenter's "Home Road," and "Under the Stars and Stripes."

Rev. Frank M. McKibben made a short address in connection with the work of the Lowell School for Religious Instruction which has been carried on in Lowell for the past three years and called attention to the fact that next Thursday evening the graduation of 21 teachers who have completed the three years' course, will take place. He paid a tribute to the earnest and conscientious work of Rev. James Bancroft, Louis A. Olney and Edwin T. Shaw in connection with the school.

This was followed by Miss Sawyer's playing "Last Night" with the chorus next offering "O Italia, Italia, Beloved." The audience was invited to "community sing" "The Holy City."

The balance of the program was devoted to the Americanization procession, as it was called.

Groups of boys and girls with appropriate flags representing France, Greece, Great Britain, Portugal, Italy, Poland, Armenia, the flag of the Jewish nation and the United States, marched in procession through the church by turn, each group singing the national anthem or hymn of the country of its ancestors.

The "Pageant of the Stars and Stripes," a dramatization of Secretary Franklin J. Lane's Flag Day address, devised by Prof. Smith, was next on the program. The characters appeared in costume. Those taking part in this spectacle were as follows:

"Spirit of Patriotism," Miss Amy French; government clerk, Jefferson R. Mansfield; pine tree flag bearer, Wilber Roberts; grand union flag bearer, Thomas Chadwick; "Betsy Ross," Mrs. N. J. Marcotte; little girl, Mabel Bennett; "George Washington," Richard Chadwick; "Robert Morris," Arthur Lyon; service flag bearers, Grace L. Coburn and Doris L. Rigby, and church flag bearers, Robert Timmons and Raymond Aspinall. There were veterans of the Civil war and of the German war in the line, also.

AMERICA OF TOMORROW

Canadian Publicist and Orator Delivers Interesting Address at C.M.A.C. Hall

"America of Tomorrow" was the subject of a lecture delivered last evening at C.M.A.C. hall in Pawtucket street by Henri Bourassa, eminent Canadian publicist and orator, and for over two hours the able speaker kept his audience spellbound with a terrific arraignment of British imperialism. In the course of his remarks Mr. Bourassa said the great war had swept away the last shreds of the Monroe Doctrine and that in the future American and the United States and Canada must take their share in all international troubles. He also predicted a clash between the white and yellow races, for the greatest problem now facing the world is the Asiatic question. He also referred to Ireland, the little nation, which for the past 500 years has been persecuted by England, but that despite her persecutions she will come out victorious.

Mr. Bourassa lectured under the auspices of the Club Lafayette and his address was listened to with great interest. His audience included numerous clergymen from this city, Manchester, Nashua and other surrounding cities. At the close of the lecture a brief reception was tendered the speaker at Club Lafayette and later the distinguished visitor was entertained by the Oblate Fathers of St. Joseph's parish.

Mr. Bourassa was presented to the audience by Dr. George E. Coissee and in the course of his lecture he reviewed the history of this country and Canada, reviewing the War of the Rebellion, the Civil war, and the Spanish-American war, telling the contributory causes of such conflicts. Then he referred to the part played by Canada in the British-Bear war and also to the activity of the Dominion in the great world war. The speaker then dwelt upon the Monroe doctrine, saying it was concocted by George Chanalan, the British minister for foreign affairs, to help England hold Canada and it was after two years of hard work that Mr. Channing succeeded in having President Monroe adopt the doctrine for his country. "The Monroe doctrine is no more," continued the speaker, "for the great war has swept away the last shreds of it. I believe its politics were excellent, but only for the benefit of England."

Referring to the treaty of peace recently presented to Germany, Mr. Bourassa called attention to the fact that Poland was recognized as a nation, France will retain Alsace-Lorraine, Belgium will be rebuilt, etc., but he said there is no mention of Ireland, simply because England is playing a great part around the peace table. "Ireland has been persecuted by England for the past seven hundred years, and she is still being persecuted, but despite her persecutions she will win and live. Ireland will live because she wants to live and she has a right to live."

Mr. Bourassa spoke of Asiatic conditions and said there are but two nations in Asia, England, because of her control of India, and the United States, who is financing China, but Japan, who wishes to establish and control Asiatic nationalism, will fight, every inch of American commercial progress in Asia and with China, who with her, has seen and profited from modern methods of war, may some day be the enemy from which America may have to assist to protect Europe.

Mr. Bourassa spoke at length on so-called international politics and concluded by saying that the international politics of our days is "be honest if you can, but be honest, and make money honestly if you can, but make money."

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Tanks helped end the war in Europe; a Kentucky mountaineer thinks one might help end domestic warfare for him.

"I have heard that these tanks travel over impassable ground at good speed," he writes, "so when the government disposes of its surplus war material, please send me one so I can get home on time, and live in peace with my wife."

UNPAID GERMAN BILL

Owes United States $10,500

For Maintaining Ice Patrol Cutters

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Here is an unpaid bill for which Germany will be damned when peace is restored:

"The Imperial government, debtor to the United States coast guard, to one share of the expense of maintaining ice patrol cutters in the North Atlantic, 1914, 1915, 1916, $10,500."

All maritime powers paid their bills by agreement except Germany, which balked after the war started in 1914. Ice bergs which float down from the Arctic threaten such disasters as that of the Titanic.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY CRITICIZES TREATY

LONDON, Thursday, May 8.—After meeting to consider the terms of peace imposed upon Germany by the allied and associated nations, the national executive committee of the British labor party tonight issued a manifesto declaring the treaty in some essential particulars "opposed to the declarations of President Wilson, of the inter-allied labor conference and the Berne conference and very defective from the standpoint of world peace."

"It bears evidence of a compromise by capitalism and imperialism which still dominates European states," the manifesto declares.

"Any permanent denial of Germany of an opportunity to become a mandatory under the League of Nations must cause jealousy and unrest leading to further international disputes."

Other points criticized were the failure to give Germany representation on the reparations commission and the omission of provisions for a progressive limitation of armaments by the other signatories to the treaty. The manifesto protested against the permanent separation of the Saar basin from Germany.

ATTEMPT TO DEFEAT WEAVERS' BILL

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, May 9.—A last desperate effort to defeat the weavers' specifications bill was made in the senate yesterday afternoon, and for a few moments it appeared likely to succeed, as opponents of the bill were able to force reconsideration of Wednesday's favorable action, the vote on reconsideration being 18 to 15.

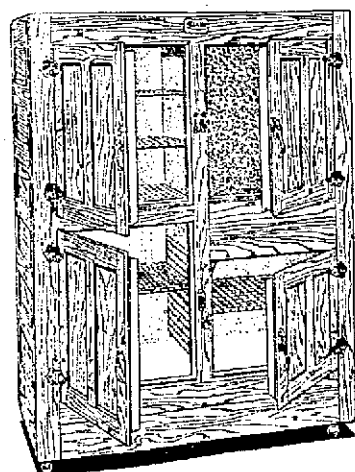

Following this adverse action, however, Senator Halliwell of New Bedford warned the senate that he was prepared for a showdown if the senate desired to force one. "Up to this time," he said, "I have refrained from calling names in connection with this bill, but if the senate insists upon a showdown, we'll have it right here and now. If you want a few facts, I'm ready to give them to you."

Senator Callahan of Lawrence said he could not prove that undue influence had been exerted on any senators, but the fact that two senators had changed their attitude since Wednesday, voting yesterday against a bill which they had previously favored on three roll-calls, showed plainly that some influence had been at work.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos, contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and heats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.

What Is Economy in a Refrigerator?

Compared with the ice expense, the first cost shrinks into insignificance. The refrigerator which is thoroughly efficient with the smallest consumption of ice is unquestionably the least expensive in the end.

ANOTHER HUGE SHIPMENT

All Day Friday and Saturday

I'll lay before your eyes the plainest proposition—the fairest above board, open handed, SHOW-DOWN ever made by a merchant to the people of Lowell.

I want you to visit my store. I want you to satisfy yourself as to certain things—anything you have in mind upon which you are doubtful.

I want you to satisfy yourself in every particular—I want you to see other intelligent men, prosperous men, taking home the garments they ordered last week. My store is an open sweep. Everything open to one glance of the eye. See these men trying on their clothes before they take them home. See how I fit them.

See my shop. See the clothes in process of making. See them inside. See them outside. See the patterns designed and draughted. See the cloth chalk-marked and cut, and the linings and findings selected for every different suit.

And the Woolens

I'll Dumbfound This City of Prosperity

A Lowell clothing merchant seeing the shipment of woolens for this sale, said, "Hid e them, or call the police. There will be a riot when the people see them Saturday."

Imagine Them—WANSKUK BLUE SERGES—Picture Them—PARAGON SILK MIXTURES. Fancy Them, BLACKINGTON, FRENCH RIVER, STANDISH, SHERRIFF, SORRIET, ETNA, ETC. Buy them! You can't beat them in all the world.

ence had been exerted on any senators, but the fact that two senators had changed their attitude since Wednesday, voting yesterday against a bill which they had previously favored on three roll-calls, showed plainly that some influence had been at work.

Senator Walsh of Boston declared that in walking through the corridors he had drawn certain conclusions which he would ask the court to take cognizance of if he were trying a case in the criminal courts of the state.

This strong language apparently had its effect, for two senators who had voted for reconsideration shifted back and supported the bill on the final test, this giving it a favorable vote of 17 to 15. This ends the fight in the senate, as the matter has once been reconsidered and cannot be again made the subject of a similar motion.

The vote was out on passing the bill to be engrossed, and resulted as follows:

For the bill—Beck of Chelsea, Callahan of Lawrence, Cavanaugh of Everett, Counihan of Cambridge, Cronin of Holyoke, Curran of Boston, Eames of Reading, Foley of Boston, Halliwell of New Bedford, Kearney of Boston, Mac-Intosh of Quincy, McLane of Fall River, Nason of Haverhill, Reed of Taunton, Walsh of Boston and Winchester of Boston.—17.

Against the bill—Brown of Gloucester, Chamberlain of Springfield, Churchill of Amherst, Colburn of Braintree, Curtin of Brookline, Dahlborg of Brookline, Gifford of Barnstable, Hardy of Huntington, Hardy of Pittsburg, Hastings of North Adams, Jackson of Lynn, Loring of Beverly, Nichols of Boston, Smith of Lincoln, Tarbell of Brookfield, Watson of Newton.—16.

Paired in favor—Knox of Somerville, Prescott of Grafton, Sullivan of Worcester.

Paired in opposition—Finkel of Boston, Hobbs of Worcester, Perrin of Weymouth.

The vote on reconsideration was exactly the reverse, except that Senators Knox of Somerville and McIntosh of Quincy were recorded with those favoring the motion, and later changed back to support the bill.

The senate ordered the anti-anarchy bill to a third reading without opposition.

By a vote of 4 to 31, the senate did the expected thing and refused to adopt the amendments to the McKnight civil service bill proposed by Governor

Coolidge. This means that the bill will go back to the governor in its original form and will be vetoed. Senators openly stated today that they have put the governor in a hole, but perhaps when they read the veto message which His Excellency will prepare they will wish the hole had never been dug, because the chances are better than even they will occupy it themselves.

K. OF P. LODGE HOLDS FIRST ANNUAL DANCE

Lincoln hall was the scene last evening of the first annual dance of Pythias lodge, No. 15, K. of P., and the affair was a big success from start to finish. Local lodge No. 15 was organized a month or two ago and if last night's entertainment is to be taken as a criterion it will certainly have a very prosperous future. The hall was well filled and the members and their friends were unanimous in declaring that the dance was the "best ever."

Miner & Doyle's orchestra furnished the music and a buffet lunch was served during the evening. The success of the affair was due not only to the regularly appointed committees, but also to other individuals who interested themselves in the lodge's first annual because they are interested in the prosperity of the lodge. James Thompson, the fellow who wears the smile that no clouds or shadows can efface, was general manager, and he was ably assisted by Robert M. Pitts as floor director and Charles Faulkner as chief aid.

"PAY AS YOU ENTER" INVENTOR IS DEAD

MONTREAL, May 9.—Duncan McDonald, inventor of the "pay-as-you-enter" street car, and formerly general manager of the Montreal Street Railway company, died of tuberculosis at St. Agathe yesterday. He was 60 years old.

Mr. McDonald's career dated from the horse car days and for a time he was connected with the traction companies in St. Paul and Minneapolis. After resigning the management of the lines here, he was elected city controller and served two years. He retired from public life in 1915, after having been defeated for the mayoralty.

Face Peeling Habit Becoming Fashionable

Women of fashion and refinement seem to have been acquiring the mercolized wax habit, depending less and less upon cosmetics for their complexion difficulties. It does seem a lot sinner to just peel off the wornout skin when it loses its youthful color and so easily, safely, painlessly and economically.

There's no trouble getting mercolized wax at any drug store (an ounce will do), since its virtues have become generally known here, and there's no trouble using it—just as you use cold cream, applying it at night, washing it off next morning. The wax takes off the old scurf skin, in tiny flakes, a little each day. The new under-skin which gradually appears, is velvety soft and beautifully white, radiant with girlish loveliness. Any surface trouble like pimples, red or yellow patches, freckles, etc., vanished of course with the discarded cuticle.—Adv.

TO DISCHARGE DRAFTEES

Orders For All To Be Out of Service by June 15—Also Duration of War Men

CAMP DEVENS, May 9.—Half of this campment, or barracks for nearly 20,000 men, is to be closed within the next week. This announcement was made at headquarters yesterday, following the receipt from the war department of instructions to discharge from the military service by June 15, all drafted men or men enlisted in the army for the duration of the war.

According to the plans for the closing of half the camp, the Depot Brigade area and those areas formerly occupied by the 42nd and 74th Infantry Regiments, are to be shut completely. Even the roads through these areas are to be closed and no traffic of any kind will be allowed. A skeleton guard, merely to patrol the areas and watch for fires, will be maintained.

The 42nd and 74th Infantry areas were occupied by the 103d and 104th Infantry of the 26th Division, when that organization was at this camp.

The Depot Brigade, which is the demobilization center here is to be moved to the old artillery area. This will bring the demobilization forces closer to the camp railroad yards and will add materially to the speeding up of demobilization. The areas occupied by the Divisional Trains in "the good old days," will constitute an overflow area for the accommodation of troops who may be delayed here because of difficulty in securing transportation, such as exists at the present time.

The other half of the division area, formerly occupied by the 36th and 7th

Infantry Regiments, will be kept open. The 36th will continue to occupy its present quarters, and the 7th area will be used for the Officers' Training school, which opens here June 21.

In the areas that are to be closed, all equipment will be left, so they can be thrown open almost immediately in case of an emergency. None of the buildings will be torn down.

The Base hospital will be kept open as always. The quartermaster area will also be used.

It was stated yesterday that 50 men from the Base hospital, 50 from the Provost Guard and 71 from the Utility Detachment are to go almost immediately. They will be followed at regular intervals by others, until the four odd drafted men still in the permanent personnel of the camp have been discharged.

Their places are to be taken by men who enlist in the regular service and by civilians. Maj. Gen. McCain has authority from the war department to employ as many civilians as he finds necessary to carry on the work at this camp. Manual labor is to be performed by civilians also after June 15.

In this way the army will give civilian employment to discharged soldiers who are unable to get their old jobs back or to find new ones right away. The military authorities are going to try and draw all the civilian labor supply from the ranks of discharged soldiers.

The government will pay the laborers $40 a month and board and room, which is considered the equivalent of $100 a month.

Word was received yesterday that nearly 1000 men from overseas are to come here Sunday and Monday, besides several thousand others who are on their way or about to start for Devens from other camps in this country.

The 4000 overseas men are coming on the transports P. J. Luchenbach and the battleship Georgia. The 12th Infantry is coming on the Luchenbach, 2333 strong, and the 121st Field Artillery, consisting of 1123 officers and men, will be on the Georgia.

It was announced yesterday that condemnation of land leased by the government will begin on May 29. The land constituting part of the Artillery Range, out around Spectacle pond, has been turned back to the use of the owners, though the government still holds the leases. Understanding will very shortly be reached, it is stated, so that all the land the government doesn't propose to purchase will be turned back to the owners and the actual purchase of the remaining 2500 acres will be completed.

WAR MACHINES NOW MAKE PEACE ARTICLES

PARIS, May. (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The war manufactures of France, many of which have already been diverted again to peaceful pursuits, are turning out a great variety of articles that are a far reach from the implements of destruction which were being fabricated on armistice day. So far as possible the war machinery has been kept and is being employed to make the things of peace to which it is best adapted.

Grenade foundries are now making iron water piping, parts for agricultural machinery and non-rusting canisters. One important establishment which was working on shells is now manufacturing locksmith's tools. In other shell works iron window shutters, pickaxes, portable saws, knives and washing machines are being constructed. One plant which made parts for lighting tanks is, strange as it may seem, constructing machines for the manufacture of paper and chocolate.

Some of the aviation works have been diverted to strange productions.

One is turning out threshing machines. Others which made airplane wings are making furniture. A plant which repaired air machines is building farm tractors. Another shop which made special parts for airplanes is installing looms for the manufacture of braid, such as is used in upholstering furniture.

Carburetors and plumbers' lamps are being made by an aviation works which formerly made taps used in the mechanism of the flying machine. The reservoirs for petrol and oil made by one plant have given way to kitchen utensils. A plant which manufactured special articles for aviation and telegraphy has found that it can continue the same time profitably.

A plant which during the war made powder machines is now making implements for the production of benzine and dye-stuffs. Another is turning out crockery.

Some plants which were using part of their equipment for the nitration of cotton have turned to the production of paper without finding it necessary to cut down their number of employees.

Works which were devoted to the manufacture of such things as fuses have made some changes in their equipment and are about to embark in the business of making tin snips, hooks, paper-clips and kitchen utensils, such as casseroles, sieves, plates and spoons. One plant which made torpedoes and delicate instruments for the accentuation of sound waves, is employed in making sheet iron.

Automobile lamps, farm implements and wireless cookers are being made by a large firm which constructed winged-bombs for air work. Another, which made incendiary bombs, is producing copper ware and fireworks.

A marine boiler plant is now working on utensils for distillation and rectification. Portable houses are being constructed for the liberated regions by a manufactory which made soldiers' barracks during the war. A plant which made boxes for munitions is constructing artistic chairs. Some of the works which made water bottles, cups and spoons for the army are constructing tin boxes for the preservation of foodstuffs.

One plant which made overshoes and wooden shoes for the army is constructing wooden racks for brushes. Barrels for the fishing industry are being made by an establishment which formerly turned out barrels for the army. Woodwork for houses is being produced by a firm which had been making wooden legs.

SHOULD INCLUDE POPE

German Says League Ought To Also Include Powers
Signatory to The Hague

LONDON, Thursday, May 8.—Herr Schuecking, a member of the German peace delegation, in addressing his colleagues on Tuesday, expressed the opinion that the League of Nations ought to include all the powers signatory to The Hague convention and the pope, according to a Reuter despatch from Paris. He favored The Hague as the seat of the league instead of Geneva, and regarded the system of mandates for German colonies as little else than "disguised annexation."

The city of Mansfield, O., stocks a park lake with small-mouth black bass, yellow perch and other game fish and limits fishing to women and children. The stocking of the lake was made possible through the efforts of the sportsmen of Mansfield.

I was there to make a sketch of her. Luncheon was just over, and she was talking to a little knot of women. The first words I heard, as I slid quietly into a nearby seat, were "National Biscuit," calling out to me. I liked her, and I liked her comely, for she was a woman in my pen. "Between the dark and the dawn," she was quoting, "there is always a bit of pause when the world seems waiting, listening for the children's hour." I've given that to my babies. First I had to get them to toddle. I had to get them to come. Then, when they were in my arms, I went on, "are much like me. They are most lovable after they've had something to eat. National Biscuits always begin our children's hour with its tasty feast."

Always ready—

always fresh—always welcome.

An appetizer at the beginning of the meal, making the best soup better, and the final touch of satisfaction when the cheese and coffee are served. Nothing can take the place of Uneeda Biscuit on the family table.

"Learn the name and function of every part of the mechanism."

BY CAPTAIN KATHERINE RICHARDS.

Commanding the Women's Motor Corps of the National League for Women's Service.

LEARNING HOW TO DRIVE YOUR CAR

Before you start to learn how to drive you should take a long lesson in the "anatomy" of your car. Learn the name and function of every part.

To learn the controls with the car stationary, the rear axle must be jacked up so that the wheels clear the floor. With the front wheels blocked to prevent the car being shaken off the jacks, and the emergency brake set hard, you are ready.

Try the controls with the car jacked up, advance the spark lever, open the throttle slightly and you are ready to start your motor. As soon as it starts, release the starter button, open the "choke" and gradually close the throttle and advance the spark until the motor is running quietly and smoothly. If it seems about to stop, the throttle should be opened more; if it backfires or sputters, close the choke a little until the motor warms up thoroughly.

Even the best self-starters fail at times, so it is necessary to know how to crank. The crank should be down and should be pulled upwards. The thumb should be placed underneath the handle and not grasp it; so that all the fingers can let go quickly.

There should be a lot of practice in throwing out the clutch and letting it in smoothly and slowly. Learn to shift gears.

Next try the brakes, with a firm steady pressure of the foot. Then try out the emergency brake, using a firm, even pull.

Keep practicing with clutch, brake and accelerator pedals and gear shift. The important thing to learn is to throw out the clutch whenever the shift lever for the gears is to be moved from any position to another.

MADE DOUGHBOYS GLAD

Lowell Girls Stage Entertainment in Jewish Welfare Hut at Devens

If you've ever sat in the stands at Cambridge and heard the yells when the Crimson team scored a winning goal then you can understand how 1000 bronzed and sturdy doughboys cheered, yelled and roared their applause to a score of Lowell girls who gave an entertainment at the Jewish Welfare Hut at Camp Devens last evening. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Jewish Welfare board of this city and directed by Mrs. Louis Carp.

No one has ever said that the Welfare hut was too small, but last evening it was far from large enough to hold the boys from every state in the union—boys from the Rainbow Division, boys from the 16th, boys from the 68th and many other units who went over there to settle the Hun—who elbowed their way in and filled every nook and cranny of the building.

Following the show, which consisted of a series of musical and vocal selections, impromptu dancing was in order, and although there were far from enough girls to go round, the boys swapped their Lowell partners at the close of each dance to some other fellow, and the result was that when the tired and happy group of young folks had finally persuaded their hosts that they must start back to the City of Spindles a large majority of the men had tripped the light fantastic with some Lowell maid, if only for a few too brief moments.

And so the boys allowed them to start homeward, but only after a solemn promise that they would return next week. "We've had a wonderful time," said a dozen overcast men to the chaperone as they said good-bye. And one stalwart lad from Oakland, Cal., added: "You don't know the difference it makes in a fellow to see a girl from Yankeland again. I was over there 18 months and that's a long time to go without seeing a real girl."

The first number on the entertainment program consisted of violin and piano selections by J. Newman and W. Paullet and was followed by the two Dewire sisters, Marie and Doris. In a novelty patriotic dance, in which the two little misses who have been dancing and singing their way into the hearts of Lowell folks for several months gave their own impression of "How You Going to Keep 'Em Down on the Farm." The boys refused to let her go and she gave an encore "You'll Have to Put Him to Sleep With the Marcellaise."

Little Miss Doris Connelly danced "La Belle Marie," and made one of the biggest hits of the evening. She was followed by Bernard Knopf, Lowell's youthful soprano, who sang "Take Your Girl to the Movies" and also "He's Had No Loving in a Long Long Time." His last number "Mississippi" was one of the gems of the performance.

The Dewire sisters reappeared in Spanish dances, and then community singing was in order. Led by Miss Brownstein and Bernard Knopf, the boys sang their way through a multitude of popular songs, and the final number, "Till We Meet Again," fairly shook the roof.

During the afternoon this hospital committee of the Jewish Welfare board, paid their regular weekly visit to the wounded boys at the base hospital and distributed fruit, candy and smokes among the men who had come back from the conflict. Miss Madeline Dewire was one of the party, and sang several songs in the different wards, with Miss Dorothy Leach accompanying on the piano.

WOBBURN AGAIN BEATEN

Free Hitting Game Won by Lowell High Yesterday, by 11 to 7 Score

Lowell high defeated Woburn high school for the second time this season yesterday afternoon at Spalding park, 11 to 7. Black, the visiting pitcher, was pounded pretty much all over the first, fifth, sixth and seventh innings. Lowell hits being sandwiched in between fatal errors of omission by Woburn players. These errors of omission, by the way, while not showing up in the box score, decided Woburn's fate. Their trio of outfielders were shrinking violets when it came to grabbing fly balls and several Lowell drives were turned into hits when the ball dropped at the feet of a waiting outfielder.

Ordway pitched for Lowell and was hit freely throughout the game, although he saved his own neck by getting ten of the visitors over the strike-out route. He was most generous with passes, giving seven, and several times set a mean stage for himself by his own carelessness. His support, also, was none too startling.

Woburn started off with a rush in the first inning and scored three times on three singles through the box which scooped past second base and a ripe error by Condon, when he dropped an easy hit with men on second and third. One run should have been registered instead of three. Lowell picked up a run in the third, but Woburn came right back with another in the fourth. In the fifth, however, the fireworks began and before the inning had passed Lowell had tied the count. Mahoney walked and stole and remained on second while Condon was being thrown out by Walsh. Ordway drove a ball back to the pitcher and the latter went into a deep fog bank and tried to get Mahoney sliding into third. He failed and both men were safe. Ordway went down to second on the first pitched ball. Mahoney scored on Cahill's hard drive down the third base line which Walsh did well to stop. Reynolds lifted an easy fly to left field which dropped safe among the daisies at the languid feet of Curry, and Cahill followed Ordway across the plate. Three runs.

The sixth brought five more runs to Lowell and they trickled over the plate too fast to be counted. A double by Reynolds, singles by Lawler, Ordway, Cahill and O'Leary, a runner's choice and a base on balls to Gleason manufactured the runs. The home club scored twice in the seventh on hits by Lawler, Gleason and Condon and an error by Gleason. Woburn picked up one run in the seventh and two in the eighth, but never threatened to tie up the game.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The eighth grade team of the Lincoln school would like to play the Greenhalge eighth grade nine tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the Lincoln grounds in Chelmsford street. Tel. 473-M.

The Blue Devils are having a tough time getting games of the class they desire, and they say the teams in the 12 or 13-year-old division are backward about offering them dates. This seems too bad, and if any aggregation wants to take a chance against these first-classers, they should apply to the Blue Devils' manager.

The Young Athletics will play the Young Aquatics on the North common Saturday afternoon for a ball game.

The St. Columba's team wants a game with the White Eagles a week from tomorrow. A return game will be given the following week. Answer challenge through this paper.

The Warriors are willing to play the Blue Devils on the Chelmsford street playground tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, for a 35 cent ball.

The Pawtucket Stars are without a game for Saturday and would like to hear from the Middlets or Hovers A. C. or any 11 or 13-year-old team.

The Silver Stars want a game for Memorial day, May 30, the purpose being to consist of a quarter ball plus the war fund. The lineup includes: Red Casey, Jim Casey, J. O'Garra, O'Sullivan, Desmarais, M. Sullivan, Moran, Blanchard and Casserly. Challenge through this paper.

The Young Farm A. C. would like to arrange a game with any 10 or 11-year-old team in the city. Send challenges through this paper or to Mr. Francis Hastings, 53 Willie street.

THE NEW ENGLAND BASEBALL LEAGUE

The New England Baseball league will open its 1919 season on May 25, two weeks from today, with Lewiston playing at Lowell, Portland at Fitchburg and Haverhill at Lawrence. The season will continue in full blast until Labor day, Sept. 1.

The league was formally organized at a meeting of managers yesterday afternoon at the New American hotel in this city, and Robert C. Paradis was elected league secretary. The teams and cities in the league were represented at the meeting as follows: Lowell, Richard Conway; Fitchburg, William Berger and Al. E. Ferguson; Lawrence, Fred Leary; Haverhill, A. L. Sibley; Portland, Heinie Wagner, and Lewiston, H. V. Wilson, business manager of the team.

Admission to all games around the circuit was placed at 30 cents, including war tax, with grandstand admissions to be decided by the different clubs.

This is exclusive of managers not playing. It also was voted to admit all clergymen free to games.

Encouraging reports were received from all points around the circuit, and substantial financial backing seems assured.

Missing Plane at Chatham

Continued

liers left Rockaway beach yesterday morning, but Lieut. Commander A. C. Read continued his flight with three motors while others were being made to repair a defective oil pump. Soon after passing the air station here, another of the motors became disabled and at 2:30 p. m. the plane, then about 100 miles northeast of Cape Cod, came down on the water.

Radio Out of Order

The radio transmitting apparatus also was out of order which accounted for the fact that nothing was heard from Commander Read during the night. The fliers were able to hear destroyers and shore stations and knew that a search was being made for them, but were unable to reply.

The sea was calm, however, and the NC-4 was in no danger as she taxied back toward Cape Cod on two motors. When the fliers were sighted from here soon after daylight they were about a mile and a half off shore and a motor boat put off and towed the plane over the bars into the station here.

Members of the crew of the hydro-airplane said they were at no time in any danger and that they suffered no hardships. They said the overheating of the engines made it necessary to proceed cautiously and rather than take the chance of burning them out completely, Commander Read determined to abandon the flight.

Commander Read and his men were all anxious today to continue on to Halifax and thence to Trepassey bay, to rejoin the other machines for the final legs of the transatlantic flight, and plans were made to rush the repair work in the hope that they might start off soon.

Weather conditions today were less favorable than yesterday. A light southeast wind was blowing and the lowering-hanging clouds gave warning that rain was near.

Casualty of Reaching Goal

The successful flight by the NC-1 and NC-3 brought much satisfaction in naval circles here and officers were awaiting with keen interest the resumption of the flight today by those machines to Trepassey, N. E., which will be the hopping off place for the trip across the Atlantic. Increased confidence was expressed today that the ultimate goal of the flight would be reached.

Needs Two Days

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Lieut. Commander A. C. Read, commanding the naval seaplane NC-4 telephoned the navy department today from Chatham that two days would be required to repair the disabled motors which forced his plane to descend yesterday while on the first leg of the transatlantic flight.

Delay Start

conditions early today were favorable for the start of the second leg of the flight of the American hydro-airplanes NC-3 and NC-1. The day was clear and there was a brisk westerly wind.

The route of the hydro-airplanes call for a landing late today at Trepassey Bay, N. E., a distance of 460 miles.

The two planes were preparing this morning for an early start to Trepassey. The NC-1 was taken from her moorings off the naval station at Eastern Passage, and run up and down the surface of the bay. Later the NC-3 was put through the same test. Prior to this the engines had been overhauled and during the night fuel was placed aboard the planes.

Captain H. K. Hines, United States senior naval officer at this port, said while the tests were in progress that if they proved satisfactory, he anticipated a start would be made this forenoon.

After the tests the NC-1 and the NC-3 tied up at the stern of the mine layer Baltimore.

Less Than Nine Hours

HALIFAX, N. S., May 9.—Two of the American sea planes, the NC-1 and the NC-3, arrived here at 8 o'clock last night (7 o'clock New York time), thus finishing successfully the first leg of their transatlantic flight.

Commander Towers, with the NC-1 and NC-3, made the trip to Halifax in a fraction less than nine hours, the distance on the map over the course they took being 525 miles. These two planes went through the test in such fashion as to convince officers here that prospects for reaching Plymouth, England, the ultimate goal of the navy airmen, were exceedingly bright.

The NC-3 was the first of the two to arrive at Halifax. Capt. Oliver, of the United States cruiser Baltimore, the supply ship at Halifax, said it was not a race. The NC-3 was in the lead, he said because she carried the senior pilot.

WOODS BEATS ROBERTS

Won Decision in 8 Rounds
at C.A.A.—McRea-Carlson
Bout Called Off

A sudden attack of pneumonia prevented Howard McRea of Cambridge from appearing in the main bout against Harry Carlson of Brockton at the Crescent A.C. last night, and as the directors were not notified until the 11th hour the bout was called off. The three other numbers on the card were given and ran checks, good for the Shubert-Louisiana mill next Thursday night, were distributed.

Billy Woods of Manchester and Willie Roberts of the Cambridge Radio school appeared in an eight-round number that was replete with action throughout the entire distance. It was a pretty even match up until the half way mark was reached. After the fourth Woods came to the front and piled up a sufficient lead to get the decision. It was a good bout.

In the first preliminary Kid Shea of Lynn was defeated by Jack Madden of Lawrence in six very lively rounds of boxing. Willie McQuade of Lowell made a big hit with those present by his great work against Jack Shea of Lawrence in the second preliminary. Shea opened up by tearing into his man, but the local lad blocked the head and countered with a couple of "beaters" that rocked his opponent. McQuade was quick to size up his man and gave him such a licking that the Lawrence boy's manager, showing splendid judgment, threw in the sponge in the third.

The announcement that Shubert and Louisiana will appear in the main bout at the next meeting of the club was greeted with much applause. Both are very popular here and are and for their aggressiveness in the ring and their abilities. They have agreed to weigh in at 124 pounds, and at this weight both should be at top form.

The Triangle Card

Frankie Walsh and Frankie Brogan have been matched to appear in a 10-round bout at an all star show, to be staged by the Triangle A.C. on next Friday evening. They are great rivals, each claiming the bananaweight championship of New England. There will be three other bouts, which will be announced tomorrow. Arguments over the weight question may mean the postponement of the Avila-Nearney bout.

YALE ELIVEN WITHOUT CAPTAIN

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 8.—Yale is without a captain for next fall, it developed today, when Artemus L. Gates, captain-elect, announced that he would not return to Yale next term.

OUTHIT, BUT WIN

Red Sox Play Tight Ball and

BOSTON, May 9.—Although out-hit, Boston again shut out Washington yesterday, 3 to 0. The visitors could not do anything with Jones with men on bases, and Barry's sensational fielding helped his pitcher out. Vitti's double, a pass to Scott's walk, single and a safe bunt by Jones accounted for two Boston runs, and Shanks' error on Ruth's hit let in another. The score:

CLEVELAND, May 9.—Chicago improved its hold on first place by defeating Cleveland, 4 to 1, in the first game of the series yesterday. Cicotte kept Cleveland's six hits well scattered, while Chicago made its hits off Covaleskie count. Jackson's single with runners on second and third in the eighth clinched the game. The score:

It was Boston's second victory over New York since 1917 and its first since 1911. Boston scored the winning run in the 11th inning when Kaut and Ross Young collided going after Maranville's fly the batter taking second. A remarkable value demonstration, presenting tire qualities not to be duplicated anywhere in America at our prices. The variety embraces all the most generally advertised makes and those most popular with car owners. Every tire in our store is high grade and guaranteed for full mileage. Several carloads of them were purchased at terrific sacrifices by the manufacturers. No reason for sacrificing them other than to dispose of their season's surplus and the fact that some are slightly blemished, but they are nevertheless just as good as first stock so far as mileage service is concerned.

Our New York connections, being the largest buyers of tires in the country, were accorded the advantage to buy at sweeping prices, enabling us to offer them to you at 1-3 to 1-2 less than regular prices. Many of these tires were recently made. They are all fresh stock. Now is the time to provide for your future needs. Prices will never be so low again.

DIAMOND NOTES

President Ben Johnson of the American League will be one of the speakers at the unveiling of the monument erected to the memory of the late Tim Murnane in Calvary cemetery, Boston, on Sunday. Miss Carol Murnane will unveil the shaft.

It has been a most uncertain getaway for the big leagues so far this season, due to the ever changing weather conditions. A number of games have been postponed because of the cold or rain which has many double-headers later on. Not bad from the standpoint of the fans, but tiresome to the players.

Boston college has one of its best ball teams in history and already the inter-collegiate championship has been buzzed loudly. They are going fine but it's a long way from now to the end of the season. Harvard, by way of contrast, is experiencing a very rough year, much to the disgust of the crimson supporters, we imagine.

The White Sox are flying right along in their league and have had little or no trouble in disposing of the western teams so far, but they may run up against a snag when the eastern invasion begins the middle of this month. Let's hope so, anyway.

Uhh, a kid picked up by Cleveland off the back lots of the town, has shown exceptional form in his two games this year, winning both of them and making a fine adjunct to the Indians' staff.

It was a rare old day for baseball at Spaulding park yesterday afternoon and foretasted many pleasant matinees to be enjoyed there this summer when the N.Y.L. is going along in full swing. The park is pleasantly situated; its remoteness being the only drawback. Attendance because of it. The attendance would increase 300 or 400 per cent if the games were staged in First street, for instance.

Now that Manager Barrow is sure of not being able to get Sam Rice from Washington he is sure Howard Shanks, and may land him before the present series with the Senators in Boston comes to an end. Shanks is good and would help out a rather rickety left field problem.

Babe Ruth, aside from his hitting proclivities, is not very much there as an outfielder and particularly is this true in regard to his throwing to the bases and to the plate. Boston fans like to recall the deadly sharpshooting of Lewis, Speaker and Hooper.

ROLLER SKATING

There will be a session of roller skating at the Crescent rink on Hurst street tomorrow evening, with music by a five piece orchestra. The floor is in splendid condition and plans have been made to accommodate a large crowd.

Hold-up men have been so active at Evansville, Ill., that Mrs. Mary Combs practiced a series of yells, Indian style, as a means of protection and got them down so pat that when she was accosted by a negro purse snatcher while on her way home at night from a Victory Liberty loan meeting and let out the first stanza of her mystified yell, the negro ran as if the fiends were after him.

THE WOMAN WORKER

Victory Loan Is Great Test For Woman With Salesmanship Talents

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 10.—“For other mothers’ sons!”

With this death-bed plea of her only son, Lieut. Edward Rankin Brainerd, ringing in her ears, Mrs. E. R. Brainerd, state chairman of the national woman’s Liberty loan committee, is leading the drive of California women for the million dollar objective they have set.

It has become their slogan—“For other mothers’ sons!”

Mrs. Brainerd, who raised $50,000,000 in the fourth loan, regards the sale of Victory bonds as not only a summons to patriotic women, but a challenge also to the business talents of the working woman.

“The Victory loan campaign,” she said, “presents a glorious test as well as duty to women who have acquired the art of salesmanship.”

Mrs. Brainerd has displayed remarkable organizing ability. The teamwork she has inspired among her co-workers in Los Angeles and throughout the state has received the highest praise and achieved big results.

It was while she was making preliminary plans for the present loan drive that news came of the serious condition of her only son in Camp Zachary Taylor in the south. She reached him just in time to hear those dying words.

“For these other boys, since it can’t be for mine,” she vowed.

A woman of wealth, perhaps as rich as any woman in California, Mrs. Brainerd’s aim is to help those who cannot help themselves. She is a club woman of note, and has proven a dynamo of energy and optimism in the business and social organizations over which she presides or is an active member.

Friends have asked her how she can go on with her work, with grief over her son still so poignant.

“I went in. He opened his eyes and looked at me.

“Where blessed mother are you?”

he asked. I told him. He smiled and held my hand and thanked me. “There are many such boys whose mothers cannot come to them. And that’s why I am out to ask a million dollars from the people of my state—“For other mothers’ sons!”

PARK COMMISSION ELECTS OFFICERS

Clarence M. Weed was elected chairman and Alex E. Fountree secretary of the park commission by that body at its regular monthly meeting last evening.

What had been expected to feature the meeting, the presence of a delegation of young men to protest against the action of the superintendent of parks in forbidding them from playing baseball on Fort Hill park, failed to materialize. Supt. Kernan explained that between $35,000 and $40,000 had been expended on the park and that the commission had always maintained the attitude that it should not be given over to baseball. His action was approved by the commission.

J. Joseph Hennessy appeared in behalf of M. Panagotopoulos, who wants to establish a confectionery stand in the lower portion of the bandstand on the North common. The matter was referred to Supt. Kernan for investigation.

The monthly report of the superintendent was accepted and monthly bills approved. There was also a discussion concerning the building of a bathhouse in Varnum avenue and the establishment of baseball grounds in the Highland district.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Below is what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Tarzan still remains a mystery at the B. F. Keith theatre. As has been said before he resembles an ape of the higher order, but he does things that an ape has never before done. Short of stature, he possesses unusual strength, and this is demonstrated time and again during his act. There are comedy elements in the act which crop out occasionally. Just when they occur nobody can tell, but they do happen. Everywhere throughout this country and Canada Tarzan has been a tremendous feature, largely because nobody can account for such unusual intelligence wrapped up in such a body. Whether he be man-ape, or ape-man, or just what nobody seems to be able to decide. It is up to everybody to look over this remarkable animal, and then take a guess at what he is. The remainder of the bill is of unusual strength. Stephens & Hollister in “Out in California,” have one of the prettiest of tabloid musical comedies. It is a hit from the moment Len Hollier comes battling onto the stage. Hollier's comedy is quiet, but most effective. Pretty Miss Stephens sings and dances well.

Frank Mulane tells stories, tells them imitatively. Some are of the Irish type, others have to do with Hebrew characters, but whoever he tells about he is sure to bring much laughter. And Mulane sings, too. He is a great favorite.

Brothers who drive dull care away are Larry and Frank Klein. They are new to this city, but they have recorded a substantial hit, and as ad lib comedians entertain hundreds at every performance.

Sisters who are exceedingly versatile are the Amoros Girls who sing a little, dance a little and sport generally. One of the pair is a trapezist of more than ordinary ability. The girls have a cleverness to their manner which is sure to make them friends. And then there are Audrey and Flobo, two dancing girls, who have a Venetian scene of beauty, and Frank Mackley, the best of all banjoists. The Kingograms and a film comedy will be shown at every performance.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

For rich humor and a pleasing mixture of pathos, that carries one through three acts of genuinely good entertainment, “Old Lady 31,” which is being given this week at the Lowell Opera House by the Emerson All Star Players, is in a class by itself. The capacity audiences that are attending matinee and night performances testify to its general popularity. See it and be convinced of its worth. Julian Noa, Miss Jane Salisbury and the others of the cast are pleasingly assigned.

Next week, “Another Man's Shoes,” a novel comedy drama, given for the first time on any stock stage, will be the attraction. It comes direct from Broadway, New York. And don't forget that next week marks the closing of the season.

Don't miss seeing the big triple bill at the Strand. And don't forget that the prices remain unchanged.

“Out of the Fog,” the feature in which the great Nazimova is starred, is well worth while, and the other features can't be beat. Evelyn Nesbit in “Thou Shalt Not,” is a gripping story taken from real life, in which the star is seen in her best role. “Married in haste” is a bright and delightful comedy drama, introducing the new screen stars, Albert Ray and Elinor Fair. Both young people are wonderfully amusing in their roles and experience little difficulty in making a favorable impression. A Tom Mix comedy—one of those lively, vigorous affairs, in which this great cowboy favorite is seen in some new stunts, helps make the bill thoroughly amusing. New song features and musical numbers add weight to a program of genuine worth. Patrons are again reminded of the fact that the Strand offers all his great and not program pictures. And, above everything else, the prices never change. You can't find a better bill in any theatre in New England. And besides this you get proper attention and proper atmosphere at the Strand.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Giant German liner Imperator is expected to sail from Brest Saturday for New York with her first detachments of American troops. The Imperator is of the same size as the Leviathan and when fitted out after her arrival in the United States will be able to carry more than 20,000 soldiers each trip.

GOODWIN NAMED IN 7 INDICTMENTS

ALFRED, Me., May 9.—In supreme court here yesterday the grand jury returned 18 indictments of which 17 were made public.

Seven of these were against Carl V. Goodwin of Lebanon, now under observation in the insane asylum at Augusta. One was for the murder of Ralph Mapes of Saco, who was killed by a station in his cell in Alfred jail on the morning of March 5. Four other indictments were for arson and two for assault with intent to kill.

Goodwin is charged with attempting to kill Frank A. Coffin, a deputy sheriff of Berwick. J. V. Spencer of Lebanon, an officer, and with setting fires to the dwellings of Mame Cilley, Mattie Worcester and Mary Bradley, in Berwick, and the homes of William Blaisdell and Eben Willey in Lebanon.

MEN'S CLUB ENTERTAINS

Enjoyable Evening Spent by Members of the Grace
Universalist Church

Members of the Men's club of the Grace Universalist church fairly outdid themselves last night when the ladies of the church were entertained at the annual dinner and reception. It was found that the parish rooms were inadequate and therefore, the affair was held in the Highland club hall. The speakers included Cong. John Jacob Rogers, Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Nixon Waterman of the Boston Transcript, and Lieut. George E. Erwin, Jr., of the United States air service, attached to the 10th squadron, British Royal Air Force, who spoke most interestingly on "Night Bombing of Rhineland Towns." The dinner was an excellent one and at its close, President Felton L. Moody called to order and presented the speakers. Congressman Rogers spoke of the passage and workings of the draft law and believed them to be two of the greatest things accomplished by the country during the war in face of our traditions against such measures. Mayor Thompson spoke in a happy vein and congratulated the club on its wide and splendid activities. During an intermission the club members elected the following officers to serve during the ensuing year: President, Felton L. Moody; vice president, Leon W. Richardson; secretary, treasurer, Marcus H. Hartwell; executive committee, William A. Hall, Dr. H. E. Davis and Roger W. Gage. Nixon Waterman, associate editor of the Boston Transcript, was the next speaker and he told a number of humorous stories of human life and related several of his own poems. Lieut. Erwin, with months of flying experience over the Hun lines, gave a thrilling recital of night bombing.

In regard to the sensation of flying in the darkness, he said, "If you can imagine yourself flying around in a bottle of ink, perhaps you can realize the sensation."

Of course, he said, you cannot hit particular objects, in bombing a city, but one is able to tell whether or not he has hit a town. "There is no doubt but what we could hit the city of Boston, we could not miss it. But we could not tell exactly what damage we are doing."

The longest flight made, he said, was four and a half hours. That does not seem very long, but you can do a lot of thinking in four hours and a half. He told of the method of signaling, when approaching the aerodrome after a flight, and the answering signals that tell them either that it is all right and they can come down, or that they must wait awhile, as other machines have the right of way. If they get no answer at all, it means that there are Hun machines around, and the airmen go away and wait about three-quarters of an hour.

To identify our own machines when they are in the air, there is a "letter of the night" and a "color of the night." These are changed nightly and are not known to the fliers until just before starting out. The letters are signalled by the lights, using the Morse code.

He told of German defense against night bombing. They had a barrage system that would practically cover the whole area of a city. You could not go above them, but you could duck below them, but in doing that you are running into the machine gun fire. They have something that the airmen called "flying onions," that come up about 50, in a string, blinding. They are phosphorous, and they seem to be joined together. The idea is to set you on fire, or to make you run into them and wreck your machine.

Then there is another device, also phosphorous, they used to call "bunches of violets." They look very pretty, he said, especially when you see them at a distance. Another defense is the balloon barrage. They put up three balloons connected by a cable. These direct service would always tell the airmen where there was a balloon barrage, but there was always danger that it had been moved.

Another defense was the searchlight. Multiply the automobile light by 10 and you will know something about the power of a searchlight. They are so managed as to catch the airman in a net of light, and he cannot see anything at all. The only way to get out is to slide 500 or 700 feet, and duck under the light.

During the course of the evening Dr. G. Forrest Martin, speaking for the club, presented Mr. Moody an electric lamp in appreciation of his work at the head of the organization, and Mrs. Moody was presented a bouquet of roses. Music was furnished during the dinner by Mrs. Chase's orchestra and incidental entertainment was given by a group of Venetian musicians, Pietro Mordeila, leader.

The local evening newspaper is the paper that reaches the home when the whole family is there to read it. The Sun fills this field in Lowell.

ANOTHER LOWELL MAN PRAISES GOLDINE

Mr. Thomas McNamara, 75 years old, 731 Gosham street, a well known machinist in this city, said: "I have suffered with kidney trouble for 20 years. My back felt lame and sore and I had to get up five or six times a night, and during the day I had no control of myself. I heard so many people praising Goldine for kidney trouble here in Lowell I decided to try it. I got my first bottle on April 24 and before that was gone I was a lot better. I was so bad before I started taking Goldine that I couldn't hold my water more than three hours and it used to distress me. Now I can go five hours or more and feel no distress whatever. I wouldn't have believed one bottle of any medicine would have done me much good. I had a lot of friends who said if I hadn't used Goldine, especially old people who suffer as I did."

CALCINED HUMAN BONES FOUND IN PARIS VILLA

PARIS, Thursday, May 8.—Calcined human bones have been discovered by the police in the villa at Gambass, owned by Henri Landru, who is under arrest on suspicion of having murdered several women. According to the police, he used a furnace heated by some method as yet unknown, to burn the trunks of his "victims" and destroyed their limbs in the fireplace of his villa.

A mass of stones was piled against a wall of the villa. These stones evidently belong to a furnace and clinging to them were found bits of melted glass in which were pieces of human bones, including three fragments of human skulls. The floors of the villa show stains presumed to have been caused by blood. Suspicious stains have been found on furniture.

TENTS SHELTER EVICTED FAMILIES

NEW YORK, May 8.—The mayor's committee on rent prodding will pitch army tents on school sites in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn to provide shelter for 150 families who expect to be evicted.

There were scores of evictions all over New York city yesterday and household furniture was piled on the sidewalks by city marshals in virtually every ward. Reports were received of several cases in which dispossessed landlords were assaulted by angered tenants.

BUSINESS EXPANSION

The firm of Shaddock & Normandin, dealers in clothing and wearing apparel at 210-214 Middlesex street, has leased the store occupied by Charles M. Barlow, baker at 202-208 Middlesex st. for the purpose of expansion. Mr. Barlow has been notified to vacate by Aug. 1 at which time the new lessees will put in a full line of furniture. With the new store the firm of Shaddock & Normandin will just double its floor space.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored in such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 62.5 gr. Eucalypti (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Eucalypti is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.—Adv.

The Goldine Man

waiting room): I want to tell you how Goldine helped me. I had been suffering terribly with stomach trouble, palpitation of the heart and backache. I was so bad that I did not dare eat anything hardly and even the lightest food would distress me. I would fill up with gas till I could hardly breathe. It seemed to crowd my heart and caused it to flutter or beat hard. My head ached a great deal and I became so nervous I could not sleep. My back ached nights so I could not rest, and I felt very weak and trembly. Some of my friends told me how good they had found Goldine to be and advised me to try it. I did, and it helped me. I took the No. 1 for stomach trouble and before I had taken it two days I began to feel hungry. My headache was all gone and my food didn't distress me. I began sleeping better right away and to feel stronger. I and my backache is nearly gone and I haven't had a spell with my heart since I started using Goldine. I think it is just wonderful what that medicine did for me, and so quickly. It is better than my friends said it was and I am glad to have a chance to tell Lowell people about it.

MRS. MARGARET WELCH.

It is interesting to see how many friends through the city of Lowell and assure them their friends will get the splendid results that they themselves have gotten. ## SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

Y.D. Men Prepare For the
Salvation Army's Home
Service Fund Campaign

BOSTON, May 8.—"Let's go!" That was the cry of the hero dough-boys of the Yankee Division as they went over the top.

That is their cry today, as they prepare for the Salvation Army's Home Service fund campaign in New England for $2,250,000 which begins on May 10 and extends through to May 26.

Y.D. Division—Bunnell, Goodwin, Logan, Kerville. The same is true of scores of other cities and towns of New England.

And behind the Y.D. men, ready to fight to a finish for the success of the Salvation Army campaign, are the members of the Y.D. auxiliaries and Lodges of Elks in each of the six New England states. They, too, know the worth of the Salvation Army—know it from the stories they have heard from their own who went "over there." And they are going to go over the top for the Salvation Army even as they went over the top for all the Liberty loans.

Already the Elks in certain cities and towns have asked that they be permitted to aid in directing the campaign and, securing permission, have established their own committees.

Then, behind all these, are every known business and industry. And not as separate businesses and industries, but organized and united to go the limit in the campaign. Everyone, it seems, is co-operating to help the Salvation Army achieve its purpose—the continuance of its activities on such an enlarged scale that its humanitarian influence shall be felt throughout every part of New England.

Hitherto, as is known, the Salvation Army has been dependent entirely upon money donated to its street collectors and to coins that have been dropped into the tambourines passed at its meetings indoors and out. This method has never been satisfactory. Not only was it a makeshift way of securing funds, but it took the time of Salvation Army workers, ladies and men, when they desired to devote themselves entirely to their errands of mercy. So the campaign whereby the

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength

This preparation for the removal of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any druggist under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggists for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

country shall contribute $13,000,000—in New England $2,250,000 of that amount.

Greater Boston's quota in the campaign has been set at $700,000. Quotas for other cities and towns have been fixed according to the local needs. Worcester, for instance, has a quota of $150,000. All, however, benefit alike. For the institutions conducted by the Salvation Army, wherever they may be are open to everyone. Thus all New England has its share in the institutions of the Salvation Army, in Boston—People's Palace, the Hotel Rexford, where there are 250 rooms for service men, the Woman's Hospital, in process of construction, the Industrial Home and the many other places, such as camps for children.

Always it has been the work of the Salvation Army to help the unfortunate—man, woman or child. Thousands have been saved by its missionaries—the brave ladies and men who have never yet been found wanting. With the campaign carried through successfully, say those directing the activities of the organization in New England, the great humanitarian purposes may be carried on so long as there may be need for them.

"A man may be down, but he's not out," is the Salvation Army's motto, and to make it good forever the present campaign was instituted.

FUNDS FOR IRISH FREEDOM CAUSE

Further plans to raise $10,000 for the cause of Irish freedom were discussed last evening at a meeting of representatives of local Irish societies at the Richardson hotel. Humphrey O'Sullivan presided. James O'Sullivan reported that Judge J. M. Wall of Bournebrook, N. J. and Senator Callahan of Lawrence had accepted invitations to speak at the mass meeting which opens the drive next Sunday evening in Associate hall.

Humphrey O'Sullivan said that the Friends of Irish Freedom are instrumental in the drive which is about to open and that money must be raised to meet the huge sums which England is expending in the interests of counter-propaganda. Other speakers included John J. O'Connor, Robert R. Thomas and Michael J. Sharkey. The Ladies Auxiliary of the A.O.J. was requested to co-operate in the drive and then publicity details of the campaign were discussed.

NORTH BILLERICA

The young ladies of St. Anne's church in North Billerica conducted a very successful entertainment in the parish house last evening. The affair was conducted for the benefit of the memorial window fund and the receipts of the evening were very substantial. The play given was "Just a Little Mistake" and the different roles were interpreted by the following: Misses Lucy Cooper, Susie Walker, May McAllister, Gladys Switzer, Grace Switzer and Mr. Clifford Watson.

EX-CROWN PRINCE IN POTTERY BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The former German crown prince has gone into the pottery business according to official despatches received here today from Holland. A new company just organized to use the calcareous sands on the island of Wieringen, in the North sea, "has named Mr. Frederick William Hohenzollern as the director manager." It was said he was a large investor in the enterprise.

A specially ambitious piece already put out by the new company is a tile portrait of the director manager in outing costume against a background of church and cottages. The despatches said it is reported that the tile had been bought for $10,000 for presentation to Premier Clemenceau of France.

WITH THE FIREFMEN

The firemen responded to three telephone alarms from 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon to 5:10 o'clock this morning. The first one was for a brush fire in Mammoth road. The second was at 7:10 o'clock last evening and was for a grass fire in First street. The third was at 3:10 o'clock this morning for a slight blaze in the junk yard of David Ziskind & Co. in Tanner street. There was no damage.

NOIR RECRUITS FOR NAVY

Two young men were forwarded to Boston by Chief Cary of the Lowell naval recruiting office today. They were Joseph Lemoine, 268 Hildreth street, landsman for electrician radio and Frank Brown, 129 Church street, landsman for electrician general. During the past week the naval recruiting service enlisted 1390 men who had no previous naval experience, which is a gain of 152 over the previous week.

Relieve Your Indigestion With a Laxative

Dyspeptics know that indigestion is accompanied by constipation, and that until the bowels can be regulated so they will act freely and naturally every day at a stated time, swallowing dyspepsia tablets is of little use.

A great and growing number of sufferers from this trouble find immediate and then permanent relief by the use of a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The laxative herbs act on the bowels and the pepsin and extracts on the digestive tract, forming an exceptionally effective laxative- tonic.

It is a combination that has been found wonderfully helpful in indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headaches, bad breath, belching and gas on the stomach. A small dose is all that is required.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

PRICE AS ALWAYS

In spite of greatly increased laboratory costs due to the War, by sacrificing profits and absorbing war taxes we have maintained the price at which this family laxative has been sold by druggists for the past 25 years. Two sizes—50c and $1.00.

NO HARD FEELINGS IN THIS CASE

What can be termed a test case for the benefit of local plumbers and contractors was tried before Judge Pickman in the civil session of the police court a couple of days ago, when the testimony in the case of Charles G. Viau vs. Zoul Houle was heard.

Mr. Viau, who is a local plumber and steamfitter, brought suit against Mr. Houle, a contractor, to recover on lead piping installed in a new house being built by Mr. Houle. It seems that Mr. Houle who was granted the general contract for the building, gave a sub-contract for the plumbing to Mr. Viau, who in the preliminary work, laid piping amounting to about $16. Owing to the fact that work on the construction of the building was not progressing fast enough to suit him, Mr. Viau stopped work on the building and a few months later when he resumed his work, he found that the lead pipes that he had laid, had been cut off and stolen.

Mr. Viau installed new pipes and then the question arose as to who would settle for the stolen pipes. Mr. Houle claiming that Mr. Viau should bear the loss because he had not completed his work, while Mr. Viau claimed that Mr. Houle should make good as he was the general contractor. Inasmuch as numerous thefts of that nature have been committed in the past, Messrs. Houle and Viau decided the best way out of it was to make a test case, not for the amount involved, but in order to determine who is liable, and hence the suit. Henry V. Charbonneau appeared for Mr. Viau and Warren Fox for Mr. Houle. Judge Pickman has not yet given his finding in the case.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

Charged with stealing electricity, George Wong was called on continuance before Judge Fisher in police court today, and after entering a plea of guilty was fined $150. He appealed the case and was ordered to furnish bonds to the amount of $200 for his appearance in superior court.

Wong was arrested by the local police a short time ago after it had been found that by the use of an ingenious "double wire" plug attached to the electric meter in his laundry, he had been defrauding the Lowell Electric Light corporation of current valued at over $100.

Adelard Desforge was called on continuance on a complaint charging him with breaking and entering in the nighttime, and larceny of candy and cigars from a local variety store. Probable cause to believe him guilty was found by the court and he was held in the sum of $300 for the grand jury.

Frank Daley came down from New Hampshire yesterday with $50 in his jeans and a magnificent thirst. Today he appeared in police court, minus the greater part of his roll, and with a badly battered countenance. Frank couldn't remember how it happened, but promised to return to the Granite state immediately if given an opportunity. He was fined $10.

A large number of juvenile offenders came before Judge Pickman in the second session, and in most cases were placed on probation with the understanding that restitution be made for damage committed.

ARRESTED FOR THE LOWELL POLICE

Charged with taking money under false pretenses, John Hamilton was arrested last night in New London, Conn. for the local police, and was brought here today by Inspector Walsh.

It is alleged that Hamilton came to the Y.M.C.A. in this city in March and represented himself to be connected with the United States Steel Corp. He asked the "Y" secretary to assist him in securing an assistant, and soon after he had been introduced to a young man furnished by the secretary, absconded with $15 belonging to his new assistant.

CAN'T DO SHIMMY DANCE IN LOWELL

They can't "shimmy" in Lowell. Superintendent Welch of the local police department has said it, and what the chief says regarding dancing goes. So, girls, you'll have to watch your step when you trip the light fantastic tonight and from now on, and be sure, very sure, that you and your partner don't shimmy.

In speaking of the dance to The Sun man today the superintendent said: The dance known as the "shimmy" has been barred from the dance halls of Boston and several other cities on the grounds that it is both immoral and indecent. I can see no reason why it should be tolerated in Lowell. It is a dance of the "muscle" order, and is bound to have a degrading influence on the morals of young men and women. The young folks of Lowell must be protected from such immoral exhibitions and I intend to see that this is done.

SHOPPING IS SYSTEMATIZED

It is a mistake for you, Mr. Store Manager, to believe that the women of Lowell conduct their shopping in a haphazard manner. The housewife has borrowed and adorned the reputed efficiency of the average business man. We mean, that she is systematizing her shopping.

If you believe the average Lowell housewife gets up from the breakfast table, pours over the ads of the morning paper, throws on a coat and hat and gallops madly and hastily to shop as per the morning paper's advertised bargains you are a victim of a delusion.

Tomorrow's shopping will be planned today—either before or after supper. Tomorrow's shopping will be based on today's bargain advertisements in today's Sun. You must realize that as regards planning a shopping expedition, there are still many women who want to "sleep on a decision." Being guided by an afternoon paper permits of this. This is worth bearing in mind and it explains why you should secure space in

The whole world is in a receptive mood, ready to adjust itself to the new order of things laid down in the peace treaty with Germany. The Germans may squirm and object, but it is probable that they will sign the treaty after due deliberation.

Those who felt that through the influence of President Wilson, the treaty would let the Germans off too lightly, will now change this opinion. Reparation, not indemnity, is the term used for the amounts demanded from Germany, and this is made up of the claims of various nations, Belgium to get the first installment. Moreover, parts of Germany are to be occupied by allied forces until Germany shall have met the claims for reparation.

These are far-reaching and must fall with crushing effect on Germany. She will have to pay for the destruction effected by her submarines, for which Admiral Von Tirpitz was mainly responsible. Undoubtedly, this gentleman and Count Von Bernstorff will be among the men to be tried with the Kaiser for violation of the provisions of international law.

It will certainly crush the German pride to have to repair by German labor part of the havoc worked in France, to build 200,000 ship tonnage to be turned over to the allies in part reparation, and to demolish the forts along the Rhine and those of Heligoland, which it took Germany many years to complete at vast expense. Besides, the Kiel canal, behind which the navy of Germany found a secure asylum during the war, will be open to all nations.

Moreover, Germany had intended to absorb Austria, but under the treaty submitted she will have to recognize the independence of German Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland, which means the loss of considerable territory in addition to parting with the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine.

Altogether, the treaty provisions, if carried out, will overthrow forever the military power of Germany. Other treaties are to be framed for Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey and these, especially that dealing with Turkish interests, will be equally as drastic as the German treaty.

Had the treaty been drawn by Germany herself, she could hardly have done a more effective job in destroying the military power of her enemies. Yet France seems to think that she is not sufficiently protected against future attacks by Germany. With her increased territory and the precautions taken to prevent the recurrence of German militarism, it would seem that France has but slight ground for such fear, and yet she wants England and the United States to guarantee her safety against the possibility of such attacks.

This will come before congress as a separate proposition. The treaty reducing Germany to a minor power, we predict, will be signed within the allotted time and then the world will draw a long breath and thank the Author of all good who sometimes permits nations to follow an erratic course to such an extreme that the world revolts and with all its force, then moves in the opposite direction.

STREET ACCIDENTS

The number of accidents resulting from the operation of motor vehicles on the streets and highways, continues to be quite alarming. It would be wrong to blame the drivers of such vehicles for all or even for a majority of the accidents. It is true that there are many reckless drivers, many who do not fully appreciate the element of danger that is placed in their hands when they sit behind the motor of a high powered machine. They forget sometimes that the highways are being used by pedestrians, by people of all ages, by some who are unable to see or hear clearly, and by others who are unable to jump when they see an automobile bearing down upon them.

The reckless drivers are a menace to public safety and must be either properly restrained or put out of business. But there is another side to the case which is equally important and to which the police authorities must also direct their attention. It is that of allowing children to make a playground of the busiest public streets where street cars and automobiles are passing in succession every hour—we might say every minute—of the day. There are many parents who go to work in the mills, leaving their little children to roam the streets or else under the care of people who do not look after them. In the vast majority of cases of accidents in which children are killed or injured, the drivers are found blameless. The children in their play forget all about the danger and are liable to rush out at any point in front of a motor vehicle.

The question arises then, what can be done to prevent children from being exposed to these dangers. Some of these children who play on the streets have become so bold that they will throw stones at passing autos or sometimes hold out a stick to grate along the side of the vehicles. Many of the owners and drivers of automobiles have reason to complain of damage done to their property in this manner. This is a matter calling for the attention of the police, and the practice has gone so far that it is rather surprising they have not already taken steps to stop it.

If public safety is to be promoted on the streets and highways of our city, the speed maniacs must be restrained and parents must be prevented from allowing children of from one to five years old from using the busiest streets as playgrounds. Even if the little ones were taught to keep on the sidewalks, there would be fewer accidents; but it seems that this precaution is neglected.

WOMEN ENDORSE LEAGUE

What a divergence of views can be expressed at a distance of one mile! At the national capital a certain group of republican senators occupied much time in denouncing the League of Nations and drawing up a "round robin" pledging unalterable opposition to anything that President Wilson suggested as a possible means of preventing future world wars. A few days ago, another gathering in Washington took action on the League of Nations, but not a voice of opposition was heard. The 25th Continental Congress of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, in session in their own building, vigorously applauded resolutions unequivocally endorsing the League of Nations, and further showed their enthusiasm at every mention of the proposed remedy for war.

There was more significance to the action of the Daughters of the American Revolution than a first reading would indicate. The members of this organization are intensely patriotic, but that they could agree unanimously on the important project that was opposed by republican leaders as a party issue and which has rent that party in twain, shows conclusively the tremendous and unanimous swing of public sentiment in support of the league.

The influence of the mother was often felt in politics long before any of the sex received the franchise. How much stronger is it now since the ballot has been placed in the hands of the majority of them! And how appealing to the mother who sent her sons to France to make the world safe for democracy is the thought that the efforts of Woodrow Wilson may make unnecessary another reading of heart strings, as was the case when the call to arms was sounded in 1917!

The "round robins" are disappearing from their perch by ones and twos. When the women of America make known their position on the League of Nations, it will be a brave—or obstinately stupid—senator who seeks to deny their demands.

REPUBLICAN PLANS

Business is turning quickly and prosperously from the conditions of war to the status of peace. All the signs are for a complete revival and a period of activity without precedent. Employment is increasing, wages are stable, new enterprises are arising in all parts of the country. Prospects for good harvests are encouraging. All this has come about without an extra session of congress and in spite of the hurtful filibuster by which republicans defeated important legislation at the very outset of "reconstruction."

If the republican leaders of the next congress attempt to hamper President Wilson, instead of going about the business of passing the measures which a democratic administration framed and would have enacted but for their obstruction, they will halt the recovery of industry and invite trouble. Not President Wilson, but the people at large will be the sufferers.

It begins to appear, however, that discord and factionalism will prevent the republican majority from adopting and pursuing an affirmative, constructive course of legislation in the new congress. They were almost unanimous in their opposition to the democratic program, but they give signs of being hopelessly lacking in unity as to any other policy. But there is something worse than republican inability to agree on a plan of obstruction—bad though that be. That is, they might combine to undo, so far as they can, the good work which the democrats have accomplished in the last six years of their ascendancy. And they have threatened to do that very thing.

There have been at least three sets of opinions among republicans in respect to the League of Nations. Some wanted no league, others favored half a league, and a third group—the largest of all—favored the league advocated by President Wilson. Those in the last category are now not only the most numerous, but also the most insistent. The others have become singularly still and inconspicuous.

Some republican papers are saying that the republicans and the "progressives" will "get together" during the next session of congress. Judging the factions wholly by their exchanges of "courtesies," it is pretty certain that if they do "get together," some one will have to call the police.

As regards the reporters said to allude to men and women 50 years old as "aged," it may be remarked in extenuation that they must be very young newspapermen still carrying marks of verdure and unsophisticated in the matter of feminine longevity.

As to the suggestion that New York papers should band together and publish the names of the landlords who have not boosted their rent and evicted tenants, the question arises as to whether this list or the other is the longer.

It will be less important to those concerned about the Bolshevik movement in Russia to know, as Herman Bernstein reports, that it has "collapsed from within," than to know that it really has collapsed, no matter in what form—or how.

The British delegation at the conference is enthusiastic about Article 21 of the league constitution, because it recognizes the Monroe Doctrine—and incidentally because it doesn't disturb Britain's defensive treaty with Japan.

Europe has many classes. We have but two—workers and loafers. The workers comprise the middle class. The loafers are either aristocrats or hoboes, and soap distinguishes one from the other.

Of course the average striker is a hard person to understand sometimes, but these Lawrence men who join the army exhaust our talent at guessing. Why did they not seek jobs in mills in other towns?

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

For one who is fond of humor there is no better job than that of assistant assessor. Not that the job is a funny one, but because there are many incidents connected with the work that are really amusing. I have not had any experience myself on this particular work, but I have listened to many interesting stories in relation to the job, told by a friend who has been doing the work for the past three or four years. As we all know, the assistant assessor goes from house to house carrying a large red book under his arm, while his pockets are bulging out with notebooks, pencils, erasers, for although the man on the job is not supposed to make errors, it often happens that his mind is somewhere else while taking names for poll taxes and naturally the eraser comes in handy. However, his identity is often mistaken and in many instances he is taken for a vendor or peddler. "I knocked at a door one afternoon," said my friend, while relating his experiences, "and as soon as the door was opened it was slammed on me. I quickly shouted to the woman that I was not a peddler but an assistant assessor and again the door was opened. The woman blushed and informed me that she believed I was selling books on the installment plan and that she never did business that way. Later on during the day I rang a bell and a little girl opened the door. Upon seeing me, she said, 'My mother is not in.' I am not a collector," I quickly informed her. That worked like magic. For immediately she shouted at the top of her voice, 'Ma, it is not a collector. It is a man from city hall.' I got the information I wanted without having to make a back call. In another place the woman greeted me with a smile and said: 'Of course you are a collector, but whose place did you take?' 'No, I am not,' I replied, 'I am around for poll taxes.' 'But my husband just paid his taxes last week,' she retorted. It took me about five minutes to make her understand what my mission was. 'Do you keep dogs, madam?' I asked a middle-aged woman. 'No, do you?' was the reply. In another house where I asked the same question, the woman replied that there was but one dog in the house and it was out at present. I happened to go into a tenement occupied by two old maids and when I asked who occupied the flat, one of them replied 'we do.' 'Have you any men here?' I asked. 'Men?' she said, 'why what would we do with men?' Of course, I did not undertake to tell them how useful a man might be around the house. I quickly got out and for the benefit of the assessors I wrote opposite the number of the house on my book that such a place was occupied by women only. Some women are very talkative, while others will barely answer your questions. In some places the women will insist upon telling you the abuses they are receiving from their husbands, while others will dwell upon the qualities of their man. This world is really a funny one, but if you are looking for variety join the ranks of the assistant assessors."

There is a reason why one man makes money where another fails in the same undertaking. I saw an example of this today. The representative of a wholesaler came in with a certain supply to deliver to the dealer, who by the way has been conspicuously successful in his business. The merchant took the goods, supposed to be so many pounds packed in a carton, to his scales. It failed to measure up. To make sure he took the box to his other scales. It still fell short and the man who had delivered it was called and took it back. Someone had packed it short by mistake or intentionally and the retailer who takes the goods without weighing and checking loses his margin of profit on that box. It is watching the little things that makes business and life generally a winner.

I understand that there is one article of wearing apparel which the returning doughboys almost universally forget in their purchasing trips in equipping themselves with civilian outfits and that is a pair of garters. They have been so long wearing puttees, with which they have felt no need of these most necessary articles of up-to-date clothing, that they forget all about them until the clerk, perhaps, reminds them of that need.

HOW THIS NERVOUS WOMAN GOT WELL

Told by Herself. Her Sincerity Should Convince Others.

Christopher, Ill.—"For four years I suffered from irregularities, weakness, nervousness, and was in a run down condition. Two of our best doctors failed to do me any good. I heard so much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, I tried it and was cured. I am no longer nervous, am regular, and in excellent health. I believe the Compound will cure any female trouble."—Mrs. ALICE HEILER, Christopher, Ill.

Nervousness is often a symptom of weakness or some functional derangement, which may be overcome by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as thousands of women have found by experience.

The letters constantly being published from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Above its dateline as "the closest thing to a soldier," is at hand and is abundantly supplied with breezy and interesting reading matter that the civilian can enjoy with a relish almost equal to that of the soldier. All the departments of a live, up-to-date newspaper are represented in The Cootie. The Ninth regiment is now with the army of occupation and its present headquarters is at Bendorf on the Rhine. Although there are no records readily on hand, undoubtedly there are some Lowell men in the outfit. To show that the good old American spirit is still with the troops, the following clipping from the sport page is of interest: "The army of occupation is getting ready for the great spring baseball drive. Even the prospective departure of some of the divisions cannot eradicate the lure of the great American pastime from the minds of the Yanks in Rhineland. All that is needed is good spring weather."

It is almost 20 years ago since the late Rev. Walter J. Shanley whose funeral was held Tuesday in Danbury, Conn., visited in Lowell and those who remember him will recall his earnest plea for total abstinence as laid down by Fr. Mathew and his striking appearance in the pulpit and on the stage. Lowell members of the Mathew Temperance institute who afterward heard Rev. Dr. Shanley at C.T.A.U. conventions in Chicago and Providence tell me that the reverend doctor had lost none of his old time ardor in the cause of total abstinence and in the work of the National Catholic Educational association. He will be missed in many circles where he wielded an influence for good, though it is cheering to reflect that the benefits of his useful career will fructify a hundred-fold in days to come.

Hon. John Jacob Rogers, speaking to the Victory loan team workers in Edison hall Wednesday night in the interests of the local drive, snapped out several pertinent remarks relative to the financing of the United States government that were worthy of a much larger audience. The congressman believes to its fullest advocacy in a budget system of yearly finance if the federal government is ever to assure the people of the country that money is being wisely spent. He says, further, that a budget system would only tend to rectify the present system, but it would be a fine start toward an essential conclusion. "There is not a man in this room, nor a man in this city, nor in this state," he said, "who, for one minute would tolerate a finance system in his business, be it ever so small, similar to that in vogue in the federal government. And if he did tolerate it he would be a bankrupt almost over night. There is not a town or a city in Massachusetts that does not employ a yearly budget system, and why not the federal government?" Congressmen Rogers said that some drastic revision of the federal government's policy relative to its finances must occur if people are to feel that the money being raised in this Victory loan is going to be more wisely spent than the billions raised in the four previous loans. The main points criticized in the present system were the absolute lack of co-operation and co-ordination between department heads as they prepared their yearly estimates for the secretary of the treasury, and the further groping in the dark by the appropriations and ways and means committees in congress when they discuss these estimates, the "whys and wherefores" of which they know nothing.

Capt. John C. Leggat Wednesday night gave the Victory loan workers an encouraging inkling of what his talk on "The History of the 26th Division" embraces, when he elited three or four instances of especial heroism and duty more than well done by more youngsters in the Y.D. Division. "Kids" he called them, with a born and superlative faculty for leadership and initiative and their acts laid the foundation for the splendid record of New England's own division in Europe. ### WIDE RANGE IN RETAIL FERTILIZER PRICES

The striking disclosure is made in figures gathered by the United States department of agriculture that retail prices of fertilizer materials paid by farmers at the present time vary considerably as between states and regions and widely as between counties in the same states. In some instances the variation is more than 100 per cent. For instance, a farmer in one county in Tennessee is paying $81 a ton, and in another county $150 a ton for nitrate of soda, and in Georgia a farmer is paying $17.50 in one county and $49.70 in another for acid phosphate.

The department has made inquiry through the county agricultural agents who work under the direction of the department and the state agricultural colleges, of the retail price asked by dealers for the principal fertilizer constituents as of May 1, 1919, in the states where fertilizers are used to a considerable extent. The data has not yet all been received, and the inquiry is being pushed, but the results so far obtained show such wide discrepancies in the price for fertilizer material within the states and, in many instances, such an unreasonable spread between the wholesale and retail prices that the department feels justified in making a preliminary report for the information of the farmers.

Prices of Nitrate

The wholesale quotation on nitrate of soda in New York city was $39.50 per ton from Dec. 9, 1918, to Feb. 24, 1919. On March 3 it was $31 per ton and on March 10 it was quoted at $31.50 per ton, which price has prevailed up to and including April 23. The average retail price per ton reported from the New England states was $102.66; from Pennsylvania $101.33; from the East North Central states $99.48; from the South Atlantic states $99.85; from the East South Central states $102.70; and from the West South Central states $105.14. Differences in freight rates no doubt have some influence in these variations among states and regions but freight rates alone can not explain the wide variations in prices in different counties in the same state as shown by a further analysis of the figures.

In five counties in Connecticut the average retail price varies from $95 to $141.67 per ton. In the county of Fairfield the range is from $120 to $160 per ton. In three counties in Pennsylvania the range is from $79 to $120 per ton; in 11 counties in Indiana the range is from $81 to $102.50 per ton; in 13 counties in Maryland from $88 to $110; in 32 counties in Virginia from $81 to $140; in 45 counties in South Carolina from $81 to $150; in 20 counties in North Carolina from $58 to $110; in 55 counties in Georgia from $53 to $128; in 29 counties in Florida from $50 to $120; in nine counties in Kentucky from $51 to $200; in 20 counties in Alabama from $50 to $125; in 17 counties in Mississippi from $52.50 to $120; in five counties in Arkansas from $55 to $105; in 14 counties in Louisiana from $81 to $140; in 14 counties in Texas from $81 to $150; and in 11 counties in Tennessee from $51 to $150.

Prices of Acid Phosphate

In the case of acid phosphate the wholesale price in New York remained at $18 per ton from February, 1918, to October of the same year. In November the average quotation was $17.87, from December to February it was $17, in March $18.57, and in April $16.22. The average retail price per ton as reported by the country agents in the New England states was $29.50; in Pennsylvania, $29.32; in the east north central states, $29.07; in the south Atlantic states, $26.25; in the east south central states, $28.57; and in the west south central states, $30.50.

In three counties in Massachusetts the average retail price per ton ranges from $27 to $31.50; in five counties in Connecticut from $25 to $37; in eight counties in Pennsylvania from $27.65 to $31.25; in 35 counties in Indiana from $27.50 to $35; in 51 counties in Tennessee from $25 to $37.50; in 47 counties in Alabama from $23 to $30; in 27 counties in Arkansas from $25.15 to $40; in 81 counties in Georgia from $17.50 to $49.70; in 25 counties in Kentucky from $25 to $43; in 39 counties in Texas from $24.25 to $70; in 42 counties in Louisiana from $22 to $34.50; in 41 counties in Mississippi from $24 to $35; in 20 counties in West Virginia from $25.75 to $32; in 53 counties in Virginia from $21.25 to $42.80; in 61 counties in North Carolina from $23 to $29.90; in 37 counties in Florida from $21 to $42; in 23 counties in South Carolina from $21 to $28; and in 15 counties in Maryland from $24 to $29.50. These prices are all based upon 15 per cent acid phosphate.

Seven county agents in Georgia report an average price of $15.79 per ton in bulk and $26.35 in sacks, making a difference of $7.57 for sacks which during war conditions did not exceed $3.50 for sufficient sacks and labor to carry a ton.

Further details are being assembled by the department and will be published for distribution among the farmers of United States for their information.

Chris Morley says he has learned from the dictionary that "carnival" really means a meatless day and "Jeopardy" means 50-50.

Better Be Careful About Your Kidneys

BY N. B. COOK, M.D.

Foods taken into the stomach go through various chemical changes, and some of these changes are poisons that must be sifted out and disposed of. It is the duty of the kidneys to do this. When the kidneys do not fully perform their vital work, death may be only a few hours away. Happily, nature has provided warning alarms telling people when their kidneys are not well. These warnings come in the form of dragging pains in the small of the back, weak stomach, low spirits, chills, nausea, headache, scanty urine and frequent desire to pass it, short breath, numbness, cramps, coated tongue, bad breath, puffiness under the eyes, thin blood, dry skin, ringing in the ears, spots before the eyes and many other symptoms. All come from the one cause of kidneys that are not filtering the poisons out of the system. To overcome these troubles, Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., compounded what he calls Anurie Tablets. No other kidney medicine is its equal in giving relief and re-establishing healthful work in the kidneys. The treatment is very simple, as you need nothing except water when taking Anurie Tablets—a glass of water with each tablet. This washes and flushes the kidneys while the medicine itself is dissolving the uric acid poisons and driving them out. Anurie Tablets are made double strength, so that they dissolve uric acid the same as hot water dissolves salt or sugar. Most people need Anurie Tablets because most people have uric acid. Better get that poison out of your body for safety's sake, and better begin today.

To gently and agreeably coax the bowels back into normal activity, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are just as good for constiveness as his Anurie Tablets are good for kidney disorders, and that is saying a great deal.—Adv.

THE N. E. VICTORY LOAN STEEL PRICES DISPUTE

24 Hour Gain of $27,420,- 000 Brings Total to $281,949,000

BOSTON, May 9.—The New England Victory loan total today stood at $281,949,000, representing a 24-hour gain of $27,420,000, and leaving more than $93,000,000 to be subscribed before tomorrow night if the district quota is to be obtained. The returns for yesterday fell nearly $12,000,000 below the mark which had been announced as the necessary daily average.

In urging greater efforts during the last two days of the drive, the committee pointed out that less than one-third of the communities in the district had oversubscribed their quotas while many had not even reached the halfway mark. The number of individual subscribers yesterday was the greatest of any since the campaign opened, reaching 59,275.

Subscriptions yesterday by states: Massachusetts, $16,225,000; Connecticut, $4,149,000; Rhode Island, $4,553,000; Maine, $1,153,000; New Hampshire, $1,604,000; Vermont, $246,000.

Resignation of Dept. of Commerce's Industrial Board Expected

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Resignation of the department of commerce's industrial board was expected in official circles here today as a result of the railroad administration's refusal to accept the board's schedule of steel prices. With the largest purchasing agency in the country buying on a competitive basis, it was said the board was without influence to promulgate agreed prices for the use of the public.

PROMINENT MAINE LAWYER KILLED

SKOWHEGAN, Me., May 9.—Edward N. Merrill, an attorney known throughout the state, was instantly killed by a train at a street crossing here today. ## EX-JUDGE DODGE NAMED Master To Hear Suit of Trustees of Christian Science Publishing Co.

BOSTON, May 9.—Frederic Dodge, who recently resigned as judge of the United States circuit court here, was named today as master to hear the evidence in the suit of the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing society against the directors of the First Church of Christ, scientist. The appointment was made by Supreme Court Justice William C. Loring, after he had been notified that counsel for both sides had agreed upon Mr. Dodge.

The suit is based on the interpretation of two trusts created by the late Mary Baker G. Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church, and much of the evidence to be presented will deal with questions of law. The directors of the church claim that under the deed of trust creating the board they have supreme control of the publishing society while the trustees of the publishing society contend that under another deed of trust, they are independent of any action on the part of the directors.

The real issue which the supreme court is expected to be called upon to determine is the interpretation of the apparently conflicting trusts and also to define the powers and duties of the trustees and directors.

TO RECOGNIZE THE KOLCHAK REGIME

PARIS, Thursday, May 8.—The movement for the recognition of the government of Admiral Kolchak at Omsk by the allies and the United States as the de facto government in Russia, is supported so generally in Paris that announcement of such action any day would not be surprising. The northern Russian government in Archangel has consented to recognize the Kolchak government as the central government of Russia on condition that the Archangel and other local governments are permitted to retain control of local affairs. Similar action is expected on the part of Gen. Denekine, the head of the Cossack government, whose advisers in Paris have recommended it. According to despatches received by the Russian committee, Samara, an important point on the Volga, has been evacuated by the Bolsheviks and Kolchak's forces are moving rapidly toward the Volga in pursuit of the retreating Bolsheviks.

"A PEACE OF ANNIHILATION"

Berlin Papers Denounce
Peace Terms—Call Conditions "Unfillable"

Referred To as "Instrument of Robbery" and "Murder in Courtroom Form"

BERLIN, Thursday, May 8.—Condemnation of the peace terms is expressed by all the newspapers here, those of the extreme right, referring to the conditions as "unfillable" and to the treaty as "an instrument of robery."

The Tages Zeitung says: "One thing is certain: there can be no question of this being a peace of justice. What a peace of justice after the entente patern and in accordance with French desires looks like shown by the conditions, which leave nothing of Germany but a torn and lacerated territory."

Bound by Force to Sign
The Freiheit says that, compared with the policy Germany pursued at Brest-Litovsk, the entente peace "must be termed quite moderate."

"A peace of annihilation" is the caption used by the Vorwarts, which says: "If we sign this peace, it is because we are bound by force, but in our hearts we resolutely reject it."

The Frankfurt Gazette says: "We are at the graveside of right. The only doubt is whether it also means the graveside of the German nation. Never has murder been committed in more courtroom form or with more cynical equality. The German reply will have to consider that the draft de-vates from Mr. Wilson's 14 points as far as the east is from the west."

"Official Fiat" Peace
Premier Hirsch of Prussia, speaking in the Prussian national assembly today, characterized the peace terms as representing a purely "unfilled" peace, which "would mean slavery for the fatherland and fresh bloodshed for Europe."

"The government appeals to you," he continued, "to close your ranks, preserve your calm and avoid indiscretion in case of discussions. The entire nation must stand behind the government to convert this projected peace of violence into a peace of right. That is possible only if the nation which is expected to sign its own death warrant firmly supports the government. This, the most mournful day in our history, must find us strong."

ROMANIAN ADVANCE

PARIS, Thursday, May 8.—(By the Associated Press).—It is learned on high authority that there is no foundation for reports that the entente powers either instigated or are supporting the Rumanian advance against Hungary, which was undertaken solely on the initiative of Rumania to forestall projected combined operations by the Hungarians and Russians against that country.

MAY INVEST FUND

IN VICTORY BONDS

City Treasurer Fred H. Bourke has changed his views concerning the feasibility of investing the Hapgood Wright fund in Victory bonds, as suggested by Mayor Perry D. Thompson at the last meeting of the municipal council.

After the meeting Mr. Bourke expressed the opinion that the terms of the fund forbade such procedure, but upon later consultation of legal authorities, he found that the money might be rightfully invested.

Accordingly, he has sent the following communication to Commissioner
Jas. E. Donnelly of the finance department:

Lowell, Mass., May 8, 1919.
Mr. Jas. E. Donnelly, Commissioner of Finance:

In answer to your inquiry concerning the Hapgood Wright fund, I would state that the amount on hand in the various banks is $12,000, not $25,000 as has been stated. Owing to the questionable disappearance of several thousand dollars, it is my duty, as city treasurer, to safeguard all monies that may be entrusted to my care.
With that point in view, I sought legal opinion from gentlemen recognized as authorities in municipal finances, which reads as follows:

"We have seen a copy of the letter of Hapgood Wright dated March 7, 1878, making a gift to the city of Lowell, and also a copy of the vote of the municipal council passed Nov. 30, 1915, accepting the gift under Mr. Wright's will, the are of the opinion that the control is vested in the municipal council, rather than the city treasurer.

The treasurer is merely an administrative officer, who is to perform the duties prescribed by law, and such further duties in general as the municipal council may prescribe. The funds are given, not to the city treasurer to hold in trust, but to the city generally, or at least, to the city council."

Very truly yours,
FRED H. BOURKE, City Treasurer.

BATTERY F BANQUETED

John P. Hall Honors Fighting Heroes of the 102d Field Artillery

Resounding with thrilling tales of the fighting front in France and vibrant with the exultant spirits of more than 150 fighting men of Battery F of the 102d Field Artillery, the Dom Polanski hall in Coburn street last evening presented a scene of cheer and rejoicing that formed an unofficial yet wholly acceptable debut to the period of celebration which Centralville is tending these days to the veterans of the world war.

Last evening's affair was a sporting proposition in its very essence and no less a good sportsman than John P. Hall, the well known Lakeview avenue business man, was the guiding hand behind the affair. It seems that last winter one of the boys in Battery F, elated at the thoughts of an early homecoming, wrote a letter to Mr. Hall in which he drew a picture of what the homecoming of the battery would be like, the entertainments and banquets that would be staged and the part that each member of the battery would play in the celebration.

When Mr. Hall received the letter he smiled and then filed it away for future reference. Little evidence did he give outwardly of the plotting and planning that was going on in his mind until last evening the result of several months' scheming burst forth into a happy and brilliant entertainment for the boys of Battery F and every detail pictured in the letter written in France many months ago was carried out to the letter—even to making soldiers who had never made a speech in their lives stand up and tell the several hundred people before them what they had seen and heard and experienced overseas. Thus was the affair most novel and picturesque.

The hall was appropriately decorated for the occasion and the opening barage of the evening was an excellent supper served by the D. L. Page Co., that effectively transferred the thoughts of the soldiers from canned willie to better things in the culinary profession.

When cigars had been passed around Mr. Hall arose and welcomed his guests. He told of the entire affair, occasion and how the letter he had received several months ago while the men in front of him were still in devastated France.

Upon the conclusion of his address of welcome Mr. Hall was given three rousing cheers that proved close rivals to the French 45's in the matter of volume. Timothy McCarthy was then introduced as the toastmaster of the evening and a witty presiding officer was he. He handled the battery before him with all the experience of a veteran commander and assigned each member his duty as an entertainer precisely as the boys had outlined themselves in their letter to Mr. Hall. And each soldier, gallant military man that he was, responded without hesitancy, but with a little quaking inside, although military discipline forbade him from betraying his feelings. Songs and dances and speeches in profusion made the evening pass all too quickly. And when the soldier talent showed signs of waning, civilians were drafted into the service, among them Commissioner James E. Donnelly, James Daley with his tuneful pipes, James O'Garra, "Marty" Maguire, who sang "Wandering in the Memories of Childhood," one of Mr. Hall's earlier compositions, and several others. The Lowell Cadet band was present to keep things stirring in a musical way.

One of the happiest features of the evening was the presentation to Mr. Hall of a German knife captured from a German officer by the battery. And with the souvenir went an ovation to the host of the evening, that will ring in his ears as long as he lives.

most protest and that the diplomatic efforts of the enemy, may be concentrated upon President Wilson meanwhile for modification of the terms. Stress is laid by many of the journals on the argument that the terms of peace in many features are in sharp contrast with his 14 points.

French Socialists Oppose Terms

French socialist organs express themselves as opposed to the treaty because of its drastic measures and a manifesto issued by the national executive committee of the British labor party says the treaty, by its terms will "cause jealousy and unrest leading to further international disputes."

Belgium Enters Protest

Belgium's delegation to the peace conference has made a protest against the reported decision of the council of four in making Great Britain a mandatory for German East Africa.

CONFER ON THE ADRIATIC QUESTION

ROME, Thursday, May 8.—Thomas Nelson Page, American ambassador to Italy and Camille Barrere, French ambassador left today for Paris to participate in a conference on the Adriatic question.

MANDATORIES TO BE APPOINTED

PARIS, Thursday, May 8 (By the Associated Press).—Mandatories for Armenia, Mesopotamia, Syria and Constantinople will be appointed among the entente powers in connection with the treaty that is being arranged with Turkey, it is announced.

GERMANS MAY REFUSE TO SIGN

VERSAILLES, Thursday, May 8 (By the Associated Press).—The question whether Germany will sign the treaty or not is the pressing one of the hour. It is impossible, as yet, to gain an indication of the attitude of the German plenipotentiaries here, but information coming from German sources goes to show it is quite possible the Ebert-Scheidemann government is considering its fate if it should accept such a drastic treaty. It may choose to refuse to sign the treaty and go down in a blaze of patriotic glory.

According to this information, the greatest shock to the Germans was given by the formula establishing the frontier of Poland, giving, as it does, a great part of West Prussia and a considerable seacoast to Poland. In addition to large coal fields in upper Silesia. When the German delegates left home they expected to hear rather more moderate proposals regarding the Polish frontier and Danzig.

The delegates also question the possibility of Germany paying reparations to the extent laid down by the treaty and they doubt whether they should sign clauses which they are said to consider to be impossible to fulfill. They object also to the surrender of their entire mercantile fleet, arguing that this would force them to pay an additional indemnity to England in freight under the virtual British monopoly of ocean tonnage which they assume would soon follow the elimination of the German mercantile fleet.

MORE GERMANS AT VERSAILLES

VERSAILLES, May 8 (By the Associated Press).—Eight new members of the German delegation have arrived here. Among them was Count Alfred von Oberndorff, a member of the German armistice commission. He brought credentials as a minister plenipotentiary and is expected to take an important part in the negotiations.

SOCIALIST PRESS CRITICIZES TERMS

PARIS, Thursday, May 8.—The socialist press criticizes the peace conditions severely. One newspaper says: "The capitalist and imperialist world as it exists could only produce a capitalist and imperialist peace which prepares the way for another war."

Features

Of The Sun's Sunday Supplement Tomorrow

Lady Lookabout
She has about concluded that on some of Lowell's car lines she believes the patron may have to carry his own zone and ring it when he wishes to leave the car. She tells of American cities honoring their dead heroes by planting poppies in public parks, and other interesting topics.

Leisure to Abolish Money
The old scheme of communism again goes to the communists store after your day's work is done and draw its value in food, clothing and other necessities. It's a new scheme by the way. The new scheme of the world will be satisfied to let Bolshevistic Russia try it first—and see if it fails!

Mexico, a Great Customer for "Made in U. S. A."
They have money down there but demand business be done on credit. A new school for the American salesman is offered in our neighbor republic.

Quarter of a Century Ago
"Old Timer" gives reminiscences of Capt. J. V. Meigs and his railroad system that was never adopted—attempt to cross the Atlantic in a cycle boat, and other items of interest.

Dempsy, Hobo, Ungrateful, Gentleman
All in one? Yes. Indeed, this illustrated article shows the sporting world is absorbed in the personality of the young fellow who may be destined to bring relief to that ranch at Lawrence, Kan. He breaks traditions as a ring king.

Old Hanson of Seattle on Bolshevism
He is called the greatest enemy to Bolshevism in America. The Russian snake failed to scare him in his own home town. His snake business is one thing that fosters its growth among us. He outlines what he believes might rid our communities of the threatening curse of it.
